His duties consisted of installing and operating radio equipment recorded on the company's balance sheet, with the work being carried out under subcontracting agreements. On 28 December 2021, pursuant to the company's instructions to check the operability of telecommunications towers belonging to Bakcell Limited Liability Company located in the liberated territories of the Aghdam district, on 29 December 2021 at approximately 10:00 he and Rashad Pashaev, an employee of Texnocell Limited Liability Company, travelled towards the liberated territories of the Aghdam district in a Mitsubishi L200 vehicle bearing state registration number 99-JK-820 and belonging to the company for which he worked. Pursuant to the instructions, they first inspected the tower installed in the village of Galaychilar, Aghdam district, carried out planning work, and then proceeded to the area called “Yeddi Khyrman”. At approximately 13:00 they arrived there and carried out planning work for approximately half an hour, after which they began travelling by vehicle towards the settlement of Guzanli, Aghdam district. On the return journey, while passing through the territory of the city of Aghdam, they entered a dirt road that split into two directions. Since they did not know the area well, they decided to proceed in the right-hand direction, as it appeared more passable. After travelling approximately 300 metres, they came across a military post. They stopped the vehicle in front of the post, after which Rashad got out of the vehicle and began looking for a serviceman at the post. At that moment, a person in military uniform came out of the post and approached Rashad. That person was wearing a military uniform but had no weapon. When he approached Rashad, Rashad greeted him. However, the person in uniform became frightened, turned around and began to run away.

At that moment, they paid attention to the uniform he was wearing and realised that it was the uniform of the Armenian armed formations. Rashad immediately got into the vehicle and said that they had taken the wrong road and needed to leave the area urgently. By that time, it was already approximately 14:00. He first began reversing in order to turn around, but at that moment automatic weapon fire was opened on them from the post. Because of his agitation, he was unable to determine precisely how many people were firing, but concluded that there was more than one. There was no other military equipment at the post, and the shots continued without interruption for approximately 20-30 seconds. While the vehicle was moving backwards, one of the bullets struck him in the area of his left arm; however, he did not lose composure and continued driving the vehicle with one hand. After approximately 50 metres, the vehicle crashed into a concrete lighting pole, which fell onto the vehicle. At that moment he lost control of the vehicle and managed to travel only another 30 metres, after which, while attempting to regain control, he was unable to see the road because a bullet had struck the windscreen, and the vehicle overturned onto the right-hand side of the road in the direction of the city of Aghdam. At that moment, the sound of gunfire ceased.

Rashad climbed out of the vehicle through the window of the front door, while he himself crawled out through the window on his side. They then proceeded on foot towards the Aghdam district. At that time, blood was continuously flowing from his arm. After walking approximately 50 metres, they went down into a ravine, thereby leaving the Armenian shooters' line of sight. At that moment, Rashad took off his shirt and bandaged his arm with it. They attempted to telephone their management to report the incident, but because there was no network coverage at that location, Rashad left him there, climbed to a higher place where there was a signal, and informed the management of what had happened. After some time, an ambulance arrived there, and three people helped him into the vehicle, after which he was taken from that location and transported to a military hospital. That same evening, he was transferred to the Central Clinical Hospital in the city of Ganja for treatment of the wound to his arm. At the time of the incident, apart from him and Rashad Pashaev, there was no one else in the vehicle he was driving, and as a result of the incident only he himself was injured.

Questioned as a victim, Museyib Igbal oglu Mammadli, a representative of Smartkom LLC, stated that he had worked at Smartkom LLC since 2010. Pursuant to an order dated 30 November 2018, he has held the position of the company's financial director. The executive director of the company is his father, Mammadov Igbal Museyib oglu. The company operates in the field of communications and information technology, with its principal activity being the construction of mobile base stations and the provision of services in this field.

After the end of the Patriotic War in November 2020, the company began operating in a number of districts of Karabakh, including the territory of the Aghdam district, as part of restoration and construction work in territories liberated from occupation. For this purpose, company employees were sent by order to the relevant districts. One such employee was Anar Mehmed oglu Rahimli, who was assigned as the driver of a Mitsubishi L200 vehicle bearing state registration number Az 99-JK-820 and belonging to the company.

Pursuant to an agreement concluded between Smartkom LLC and Texnocell LLC, the employees were engaged in the installation of mobile base stations in territories liberated from occupation. On 29 December 2021, at approximately 14:00, Anar Rahimli, having been briefed in advance and acting in accordance with the schedule drawn up, travelled together with Rashad Asif oglu Pashaev, an employee of Texnocell LLC, by vehicle to the vicinity of the village of Jinli, Aghdam district, in order to inspect an installed tower and carry out planning work. However, having taken the wrong route, they came under automatic weapon fire from a combat position unlawfully established by Armenian armed formations in that area.

As a result, Anar Rahimli sustained a wound to his left arm, and, because control of the vehicle was lost, the vehicle belonging to the company crashed into a pole and overturned, causing serious damage. After some time, Rashad Pashaev contacted the company by mobile telephone and reported what had occurred.

Later, the Ministry of Labour and Social Protection of the Population of the Republic of Azerbaijan, through the State Labour Inspectorate, conducted an investigation into the incident. The Prosecutor's Office of the Aghdam district also conducted an investigation and notified them that the collected materials had been forwarded to the Prosecutor General's Office. As a

According to forensic ballistic expert opinion No. 3/84 dated 16 February 2022, the examined objects, like explosive devices manufactured industrially using appropriate equipment, have a special design, are made of typical material and are carefully processed. By their shape, manufacturing features, traces present on them and other characteristics, they constitute part of an industrially manufactured explosive device. However, due to the small size of the metal fragments and the absence of markings or signs indicating the date of manufacture, it is not possible to determine the specific device to which they belong, their purpose, make, technical characteristics, or the place and date of manufacture.

explosion of a mine previously deliberately planted by Armenian armed formations, as a result of which he sustained bodily injuries. A full inspection of the scene was impossible because of the large number of mines located on the surface of the ground in the surrounding area. The scene is located near the left-hand side of the Girimizi Bazar-Khankendi road, which had been controlled by unlawful Armenian armed formations until 19 September 2023.

On 3 March 2021, for the purpose of establishing the location where Hafis Salim oglu Azimzade sustained his injuries, an inspection of the road passing through the territory of the village of Novruzlu, Aghdam district, was conducted in the presence of Vasif Salim oglu Suleymanov, Perviz Mubariz oglu Ismailov, Elshan Ramiz oglu Babaev, Zulfugar Tofik oglu Zulfugarov and other persons. It was established that, during the period of occupation from 23 July 1993 to 20 November 2020, the Armed Forces of Armenia had planted mines in the territory of the village of Novruzlu, Aghdam district. There are ruins and structures in an unusable condition in the vicinity of this territory. The surface of the ground is covered with a layer of soil and grass. Zulfugar Tofik oglu Zulfugarov, who participated in the inspection of the scene, cleared a safe corridor 1 metre wide and 35 metres long from the road to the site of the explosion using a mine detector and found three PMN-E anti-personnel mines, which were rendered safe by removing the detonator capsules. Elshan Ramiz oglu Babaev indicated the location of the mine explosion on which Hafis Salim oglu Azimzade had stepped and explained that on that same day, 3 March 2021, Hafis Salim oglu Azimzade, head of the Aghdam Mechanised Irrigation Administration, while inspecting a well located in the area, stepped on a mine and sustained injuries, after which he was evacuated with their assistance. At a distance of 32 metres from the road, a fragment of torn footwear was found, and 1.95 metres from that fragment - an exploded PMN-E anti-personnel mine. At a distance of 0.55 metres from the mine, stains resembling blood were found on the surface of the ground.

On 3 April 2021, in the presence of Vasif Salim oglu Suleymanov, Rasim Imran oglu Ibrahimov and Alovzat Mursal oglu Shukurov, an inspection was conducted of the bed of the Khachinchay River passing through the territory of the village of Gervend, Aghdam district. It was established that a Hova truck bearing state registration number 99-JT-474 was located at the scene. The vehicle had sustained damage to its front and right-hand sides. Alovzat Mursal oglu Shukurov indicated the site of the mine explosion and explained that on that same day, 3 April 2021, while travelling in that vehicle, he drove onto a mine, as a result of which an explosion occurred, the vehicle was damaged and he himself sustained injuries. Measurements established that the depth of the crater caused by the explosion was 95 centimetres and its diameter was 280x210 square centimetres. Fragments were found at the site of the mine explosion. Rasim Imran oglu Ibrahimov, who participated in the inspection of the scene, noted that, based on the dimensions of the crater and the fragments found, it could be concluded that the mine which had exploded was an anti-tank mine (TM-62M). The fragments found during the inspection of the scene were packaged in envelopes and sealed with the seal of the Aghdam District Prosecutor's Office bearing the inscription "For envelopes".

Volume 391, case-file sheets 1-209.

It was also established that, as a result of the explosion of one of the "PMN001 E" type anti-personnel mines previously deliberately planted by Armenian armed formations in the territory of the village of Saryjaly, Aghdam district, on 26 December 2023 at approximately 13:00, Zaur Eldar oglu Mahmudov, born on 17 August 1982, a specialist of the demining group of the Mine Action Agency of the Republic of Azerbaijan, sustained an injury to his right leg.

Volume 391, case-file sheets 1-209.

It was also established that, as a result of the explosion of one of the mines planted by Armenian armed formations during the period of occupation in the territory of the village of Saryjaly, Aghdam district, on 2 April 2024 at approximately 10:00, an armoured excavator of the “Lugoing” make, state registration number 10-AC-827, belonging to the Mine Action Agency of the Republic of Azerbaijan and operated by Khayyam Gambar oglu Aliev, an operator of the Agency’s mechanised unit, born on 21 April 1987, was damaged. According to the record of the inspection of the scene dated 2 April 2024, the explosion occurred in the territory of the village of Saryjaly, Aghdam district, liberated from occupation, to the right of the asphalt road leading towards the city of Aghdam. The specified area relates to engineering fortifications constructed by Armenian armed formations during the period of occupation, on the territory of which trenches had been dug. As a result of the explosion, the windows and the left front track on the driver’s side of the armoured excavator of the “Lugoing” make, state registration number 10-AC-827, were damaged. As a result of the mine explosion, a crater 70 centimetres deep was formed in the front part of the excavator. Employees of the Mine Action Agency of the Republic of Azerbaijan who participated in the inspection stated that the explosion had been caused by an anti-tank mine.

Volume 391, case-file sheets 1-209.

According to the record of the inspection of the scene dated 16 December 2021, the scene is located in the territory of the village of Bash Garvend, Aghdam district, liberated from occupation. The scene is situated to the left of the Barda-Aghdam main road in the direction of the city of Aghdam, at a distance of 6 metres from the edge of the road. Ahmed Idrisov, an excavator operator of Körpü-Bina-Tikinti LLC and a participant in the inspection, stated that the mine exploded while he was operating the excavator. Namig Balaev, head of a unit of the Mine Action Agency of the Republic of Azerbaijan, who also participated in the inspection, noted that a preliminary inspection of the scene showed that the mine had been buried at a depth of approximately 80-90 centimetres, as a result of which the technical means did not detect it, and the explosion occurred only because of the pressure exerted by heavy machinery. He also added that the explosion had completely destroyed all parts of the mine, and therefore it was impossible to determine its type.

According to the record of the inspection of the scene dated 29 December 2021, the scene is located in the bed of the Khachinchay River, situated in the territory of the village of Bash Garvend, Aghdam district. The scene is located on the right bank of the riverbed, which has a circular shape with a diameter of 5 metres and a depth of 1 metre. Three iron fragments of various shapes were found inside the riverbed, which were packaged and sealed. The crater discovered is located 60-70 metres from the river, to the right of the riverbed and 10 metres from the right bank, where stones of various shapes are also present. Vurgun Mammadov, a participant in the inspection, stated that the anti-tank mine exploded while he was operating a “LiuGong” tracked excavator bearing state registration number 01-K-023. As a result of the explosion, the front and side windows of the excavator cabin were shattered, but he himself sustained no injuries.

Volume 391, case-file sheets 1-209.

According to the record of the inspection of the scene dated 27 March 2022, the scene is located at the 9th kilometre of the Aghdam-Fuzuli road under construction, in the territory of the village of Yusifjanly, Aghdam district, liberated from occupation. Khayid Mammadov, a participant in the inspection, stated that the explosion occurred while he was operating a “LiuGong” bulldozer bearing state registration number 01-K-064 while levelling the ground. As a result of the mine explosion, he was not injured, but material damage was caused to the bulldozer. The site of the explosion is located on the auxiliary lane of the road, which is 7.80 metres wide. The bulldozer drove onto the mine at a distance of 0.6 metres from the right-hand side of the road. The explosion caused damage to the bulldozer’s rear right track, and the glass of the cabin doors and windows shattered and was scattered over the area. Khalig Zulfikarov, a supervisor of the Mine Action Agency of the Republic of Azerbaijan and a participant in the inspection, stated that the explosion occurred as a result of the movement of the bulldozer, which activated an anti-tank mine. The explosion was wave-like in nature, and therefore no fragments of the mine could be found at the scene, making it impossible to determine its type.

Volume 391, case-file sheets 1-209.

According to the record of the inspection of the scene dated 17 April 2024, the scene is located in the bed of the Gargarachay River, in the territory of the village of Yusifjanly, Aghdam district. During the inspection, it was established that a “LiuGong” grader bearing state registration number 01-K-425 was in an inoperative condition: the profile used for moving or levelling soil and construction materials was damaged, and the windows of the driver’s cabin were also shattered. Alim Fetaliev, a participant in the inspection, stated that while levelling the riverbed for the construction of a bridge, a mine suddenly exploded, as a result of which the machinery being used became inoperative, although he himself was not injured. At the time of the explosion, no other persons were in the vicinity, and none of the civilians sustained any injuries.

Khalig Zulfikarov, a supervisor of the Mine Action Agency of the Republic of Azerbaijan, explained that the mine which exploded had been carried to that location by the flow of water in the riverbed and, after the riverbed dried up, had become covered by a layer of soil. The explosion occurred because of the heavy weight of the grader and the pressure exerted on the ground in the riverbed. It was established that the mine was an anti-tank mine. Because of the wave-like nature of the explosion, fragments of the mine could not be found. As a result of the explosion, the grader became completely inoperative, but the operator and other persons were not injured.

Since 27 September 2020, as a result of explosions of mines and other explosive devices in the territory of the Tartar district, 5 civilians were killed and a further 16 sustained various bodily injuries.

During the investigation, inspections of the scenes were conducted, the bodies of the deceased underwent medical examination, and opinions concerning the nature of the bodily injuries sustained by the injured persons were obtained and added to the case materials. The deceased were recognised as victims, and their lawful heirs were questioned. The injured persons were also recognised as victims and questioned within the framework of the investigation, together with the questioning of witnesses and the conduct of other investigative actions.

Volume 391, case-file sheets 1-209.

During the pre-trial investigation, it was established that members of a criminal group organised by the Armed Forces of Armenia created and participated in the activities of unlawful armed formations and groups not provided for by the legislation of the Republic of Azerbaijan. They unlawfully acquired, stored and transported various types of firearms, their component parts, ammunition, explosive substances and devices in the vicinity of the Aghdam district of Azerbaijan. Using these firearms, members of these unlawful armed formations and groups carried out armed attacks using weapons of various calibres, including mortars, against enterprises, institutions, organisations and individuals for the purpose of terror, that is, creating a threat to public security.

The purpose of these terrorist actions was to create panic among the population within the Republic of Azerbaijan, including the Aghdam district, to exert influence on state authorities and international organisations, and also to compel them to adopt unlawful decisions violating the territorial integrity of the Republic of Azerbaijan. These actions included explosions, fires and other terrorist acts creating a threat to human life, causing harm to health, significant material losses and other dangerous consequences. The commission of such acts in the future was also threatened.

On 19 September 2023, between 18:00 and 19:00, the criminal group organised a terrorist attack on the village of Mollar, Aghdam district, by firing shots. As a result of this attack, an attempt was made to intentionally kill Mehman Fikret oglu Hasanov, an excavator operator employed by Körpü-Bina-Tikinti LLC. This was carried out using a method posing a danger to the public, motivated by national enmity and within the framework of terrorist activity, which resulted in grave consequences.

Questioning of the injured person

Mehman Fikret oglu Hasanov, who was recognised as an injured person, testified that on 10 September 2023 he had been assigned by Körpü-Bina-Tikinti LLC to carry out earthworks and construction works in the vicinity of the village of Mollar, Aghdam district, as part of preparations for future road construction. For these works, he was provided with a “Liugong CLG 930E” excavator bearing state registration number 10-FC-054, recorded on the company’s balance sheet. On 19 September 2023, while at the work site at approximately between 18:00 and 19:00, he was standing next to the excavator and planning the work when he heard the sounds of shells. He attempted to take shelter in the nearest wooded area, but a shell that landed approximately 80 metres away caused shrapnel wounds to his right knee.

With the assistance of persons who were nearby, he was taken to the Central Hospital of the Aghdam district.

Volume 14, case-file sheets 41-44.

Record of the inspection of the scene dated 8 November 2022. According to the record of the inspection of the scene dated 8 November 2022, the scene is located on a section of the Fuzuli-Khojavend road passing through the village of Ashagi Veysalli, Fuzuli district. When travelling in the direction of the city of Fuzuli from the checkpoint of Military Unit No. 706, located 4 km from the scene, the location becomes visible.

The width of the road at this location is 6 metres, and the width of the shoulders on both sides of the road is 2 metres. A concrete water-drainage channel has been installed beneath the road in order to prevent damage to the road from rainwater and groundwater.

Senior Lieutenant Adil Jumayev, a participant in the inspection, stated that the incident occurred on the right-hand side of the outlet opening of the indicated channel in the direction of the city of Fuzuli. Because of the rainy weather and wet soil, as well as the nature of the explosion caused by an anti-personnel mine, it proved difficult to locate fragments of the mine.

He also stated that, following the mine explosion, employees of the Mine Action Agency of the Republic of Azerbaijan carried out search operations at the scene and marked a safe path using tape fencing. However, a sapper, using an “OZAN” metal detector, carried out an additional inspection over a width of 1.5-2 metres to the right of the road, approximately 15 metres before the channel. No mines or unexploded ordnance were found.

Record of inspection dated 31 March 2023. According to the record of inspection dated 31 March 2023, during the inspection of the damage sustained by Junior Sergeant Yusif Alasker oglu Ahmedov, a serviceman of Military Unit No. 218, as a result of a shot fired by the armed formations of the opposing side, the following items of his clothing were examined: military trousers, underpants, a pair of khaki boots and a pair of black socks.

- No objects were found in the pockets of the trousers.

These facts confirm that, over a prolonged period, the separatist regime conducted purposeful organisational activity, created more complex structures and possessed a significant military contingent in the occupied territories, selecting for itself various organised positions.

Volume 392, case-file sheets 1-247.

On the basis of a request sent by the Prosecutor General's Office of the Republic of Azerbaijan on 4 October 2023 to the Ministry of Defence of the Republic of Azerbaijan by secret letter, and the response dated 18 October 2023, an extract was prepared and appended to the case materials. It follows from these documents that the separatist regime had for a long period engaged in armament, structural transformations and the organisation of a more serious system of governance. In addition, they possessed numerous personnel, tanks, artillery, missiles and other types of heavy weaponry with considerable destructive power, as well as a significant military contingent in the occupied territories, which enabled them to take organised positions.

The aforementioned letter contained information, in the form of a table appended to the case materials, concerning the structure of the separatist entity operating in the Karabakh economic region of the Republic of Azerbaijan, its officials and unlawful armed groups.

On the basis of a request sent by the Prosecutor General's Office of the Republic of Azerbaijan on 4 October 2023 to the Foreign Intelligence Service of the Republic of Azerbaijan by secret letter, and the response dated 18 October 2023, an extract was prepared and appended to the case materials. It follows from these documents that on 4 October 2020, former Armenian Minister of Defence David Tonoyan, for the purpose of spreading panic among the civilian population of Azerbaijan, decided to bombard civilian and military facilities in Ganja. In order to avoid international condemnation of the Republic of Armenia, on the recommendation of D. Tonoyan, the president of the separatist "Nagorno-Karabakh Republic", Arayik Harutyunyan, made a statement to the effect that the strikes on Ganja had allegedly been carried out not from the territory of Armenia, but, on his orders, from the territory of Karabakh. The aforementioned statement was posted and disseminated on the social network YouTube.

On 16 February 2021, during a meeting with representatives of the Russian peacekeeping contingent temporarily operating in the Karabakh economic region, Arayik Harutyunyan stated that on 17 February the bodies of approximately 13-18 persons would be handed over to the Azerbaijani side, saying this mockingly and adding that "the transfer of these bodies is a gift to Azerbaijan after the Khojaly genocide". In addition, A. Harutyunyan stated that in February-March 1992 the Armenian side had shot Azerbaijani employees of special police units by firing them into a wall.

On 5 August 2022, Arayik Harutyunyan possessed information that, in the Lachin district, in the territory of the village of Sarybaba, the Armenian side had deliberately caused a rock formation to collapse onto conscript servicemen of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Azerbaijan, soldiers Samir Samed oglu Khudiev and Tahir Chingiz oglu Aliev, who were killed in that area.

In addition, with respect to the structure of the separatist "NKR", it is stated that, in accordance with the so-called constitution of the pseudo-state entity, state power was divided into three branches — executive, legislative and judicial — which operated separately but interacted with one another.

The executive power consisted of the "president" and the "government". The structure of the "government" included the following bodies:

1. "state minister";

2. "ministry of internal affairs";
3. "ministry of foreign affairs";
4. "defence army";
5. "ministry of urban development";

6. “ministry of healthcare”;
7. “ministry of education, science, culture and sport”;
8. “ministry of agriculture”;
9. “ministry of social development and migration”;
10. “ministry of territorial administration and infrastructure”;
11. “ministry of finance and economy”;
12. “ministry of justice”;
13. “national security service”;
14. “prosecutor’s office”;
15. “state supervision service”;
16. “cadastre and state property management committee”;
17. “state revenue committee”;
18. “water committee”;
19. “state inspectorates management committee”;
20. “material damage committee”.

The key structures listed below and their most recent heads during the 44-day hostilities were as follows:

1. “state minister” — respectively, Grigory Martirosyan and Artur Harutyunyan;
2. “minister of foreign affairs” — respectively, Masis Maylyan and Sergey Kazaryan;
3. “commander of the defence army” — respectively, Jalal Harutyunyan and Kamo Vardanyan;
4. “director of the national security service” — respectively, Kamo Hakobyan and Ararat Melkumyan;
5. “prosecutor” — respectively, Mher Hakobyan and Karen Gabrielyan.

The legislative power was represented by a “parliament” consisting of 33 persons. During the 44-day hostilities, the “speaker of parliament” was Artur Tovmasyan, and the most recent “speaker of parliament” was David Ishkhanyan.

The “judicial power” included the “Supreme Court”, the “Court of Appeal” and the “courts of first instance of general jurisdiction”.

It was also established that the separatist entity was financed by Armenia.

Thus, the aforementioned documents once again confirm that the separatist regime had for a long period prepared for war with Azerbaijan, engaging in armament and structural division. The Republic of Armenia provided this regime with comprehensive support, including military support, the provision of weapons and ammunition, financial and other assistance.

Volume 392, case-file sheets 1-247.

In view of the mine danger, inspections were carried out, where possible, of forest resources and deposits of mineral resources (ore and non-ore minerals, fresh, thermal and mineral waters) in the districts liberated from occupation. During the monitoring, the relevant records were drawn up, photographs were taken, and maps, satellite images and other supporting materials were collected.

Certain destroyed natural sites were inspected directly on site, while others were examined on the basis of photographs provided by Azercosmos OJSC. On the basis of those assessments, the damage caused to nature was calculated.

The results of monitoring in the individual administrative districts were as follows:

Shusha district:

Of the 8,526 hectares of forest fund existing within the territory of the district, 2,972.8 hectares of forest areas were destroyed. Of the 8 mineral resource deposits (3 non-metallic, 2 freshwater and 3 mineral-water deposits) registered on the balance sheets in the 1990s, 4 deposits were exploited (1 non-metallic, 2 freshwater and 1 mineral-water deposit).

Aghdam district:

Of the 4,743 hectares of forest fund within the territory of the district, 1,248 hectares of forest areas were destroyed. Of the 15 mineral resource deposits (13 non-metallic and 2 freshwater deposits) registered on the State and sectoral balance sheets in the 1990s, 8 deposits were exploited (6 non-metallic and 2 freshwater deposits).

Terter district:

Of the 33,224 hectares of forest fund within the territory of the district, 1,799 hectares of forest areas were destroyed. Of the 10 mineral resource deposits (7 non-metallic, 1 ore and 2 freshwater deposits) registered on the State and sectoral balance sheets in the 1990s, 3 deposits were exploited (2 non-metallic and 1 freshwater deposit), as well as 2 sites of occurrence of non-metallic minerals.

In response to a request sent on 13 November 2023 to the Ministry of Ecology and Natural Resources of the Republic of Azerbaijan, the Ministry's response letter dated 24 November 2023, No. 3-14/2-3675-D-03-14/2023, and the documents attached thereto state that information had been collected and submitted to the investigation concerning the location, dimensions and current condition of buildings and structures that had existed prior to the occupation in the Karabakh and East Zangezur economic regions, as well as concerning the damage caused to these facilities during the period of occupation.

According to those documents, the Ministry of Ecology and Natural Resources, based on data obtained through searches conducted by the group of the National Geological Exploration Service, stated in a record dated October 2021 that, during an inventory conducted pursuant to Service Order No. 334/ü dated 29 September 2021, it had been established that regular records had previously been maintained of immovable property located in the occupied territories, information on which was reflected in inventory tables from previous years, accounting documents and reports.

After the territories were liberated, an on-site inspection was conducted, as a result of which it was established that the specified immovable property was absent.

Subsequently, the Geological Exploration Agency compiled a list entitled “Removed Immovable Property in the Liberated Territories”, which was prepared in the form of a table and appended to the case.

In response to the request sent to the State Security Service of the Republic of Azerbaijan on 17.11.2023 by letter No. 2-2-030/2-033874/2023, the response letter dated 20.12.2023 No. 3-39/2-24/2-4772/2023 states the following: As a result of measures carried out by the State Security Service, the following facts were established: From 1988, in territories populated by Armenians in what is now the Karabakh economic region, unlawful armed formations began to be formed under the name of militia detachments, and later —

“voluntary self-defence detachments”. On 2 September 1991, the separatists, calling themselves the “people of Nagorno-Karabakh”, announced their withdrawal from the Soviet Union and proclaimed the creation of the “Nagorno-Karabakh Republic”. On 10 December 1991, the regime organised the so-called “independence referendum”, as a result of which, allegedly with the participation of 82% of voters, 99% voted for independence. At the beginning of 1992, more than 10 “volunteer detachments” operated in the city of Khankendi. According to Order No. 013 of the so-called “Defence Committee of the Nagorno-Karabakh Republic” dated 29 August 1992 “On the Transition to a New Structure for the Organisation of the NKR Self-Defence Forces”, various motorised rifle platoons and groups were created on the basis of the 1st, 4th and 6th companies. According to the available information, representatives of the unlawful regime, which had been formed over many years in the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan, unlawfully exploited the natural resources of the Karabakh region, committing environmental crimes. For example, at the “Gyulyatag” copper deposit in the Agdere district, with a total area of 498,5 ha (4,98 km²), mineral resources were transported to the Republic of Armenia (RA). After the Patriotic War, trucks which departed every morning from the Goris district for the RA passed through the “Lachin Corridor” to the said deposit, and at noon, loaded with the extracted mineral resources, returned back. Video recordings made by cameras installed along the “Lachin Corridor” show that the tarpaulins of the trucks were closed on their return. It was also established that they were not inspected by servicemen of the Russian peacekeeping contingent (RPC). In addition, video footage recorded using an unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV) showed accommodation structures constructed for workers, as well as the flag of the unlawful regime flying within the territory of the deposit. Furthermore, it became known that the plundering of the “Gyulyatag” copper deposit by Armenians was accelerated through the efforts of the former so-called “State Minister” of the fake entity, Ruben Vardanyan, who concluded an agreement with the command of the RPC not to conduct inspections of trucks. A comparative analysis of UAV footage of the deposit showed that, during the summer months of 2022, the radius of mining operations increased significantly, and a greater quantity of new machinery was brought into the territory. In total, there were 155 deposits of various mineral resources in the occupied territories, including three major gold deposits: “Zod” in the Kalbajar district, “Vejnali” in the Zangilan district and “Gizilbulag” in the Agdere district. During the occupation, the deposit of gold “Zod”, a significant part of which is located in the village of Soyudlu, Kalbajar district, where gold mining was also organised, was actively exploited.

On the basis of the information provided: A company named “Vallex Group”, specialising in metallurgy, was established on the basis of a branch of the former “Gidrotsvetmet” Institute in the city of Yerevan, Armenia. This company was engaged in the exploitation of ore deposits in the territory of the settlement of Drmbon in the Agdere district. The extracted ore and other raw materials underwent primary processing and were transported to a plant in the city of Alaverdi, Armenia. In addition, in December 2015, exploitation of the “Kashen” copper-molybdenum deposit began in the territory of the Agdere district, in connection with which a new plant was opened. The company “Base Metals”, founded by Valery Mejlumyan in 2002 and registered in the Russian Federation, had operated as a mining enterprise since 2003. The principal purpose of its establishment was the exploration and exploitation of the copper and gold deposit (Drmbon) near the village of Geyvali in the Kalbajar district. According to the words of the company’s General Director Artur Mkrtumyan, of the 3,2 million tonnes of ore discovered at Drmbon, approximately 2,8 million tonnes had been processed. The company’s investment amounted to 10 million US dollars. Operational information was also received concerning excavations at the “Gizilbulag” gold-copper deposit in the Agdere district. Since 1998, the Indian company “Sterlite Gold Ltd” had operated at gold-bearing deposits in the village of Soyudlu, Kalbajar district, and at the Zod deposit in Armenia. The international company “GeoProMining Gold”, registered in the Russian Federation in 2001 as “Stanton Equities Corporation”, is engaged in the extraction of metals in Russia and Armenia. The company’s headquarters is located in Cyprus. It is known that it participated in the development of gold deposits in the territories of the Kalbajar and Agdere districts. The Russian company “Gold Star” participated in the unlawful exploitation of the gold deposit in the village of Vejnali, Zangilan district. The Bulgarian company “Sofmar”, founded in 1978 and granted international status on 15 October 2012, with its headquarters in Great Britain, transported raw materials extracted at gold deposits in the Kalbajar district through the territory of Armenia and the port of Batumi in Georgia to international markets.

Response of the Ministry of Culture of the Republic of Azerbaijan (letter No. 3-24/2-230/07-04/2024 dated 23.01.2024):

During monitoring conducted by the Ministry of Culture in the liberated territories (Shusha, Jabrayil, Fuzuli, Zangilan, Khojavend, Qubadli, Aghdam, Kalbajar, Lachin), the following were identified: 864 cultural facilities. An inspection was conducted of monuments under State protection. The coordinates of the facilities were entered into the “Digital Geoinformation System of Karabakh”.

Monitoring of facilities (2020–2023): 901 cultural facilities were inspected. Of the 705 monuments under State protection, 539 monuments were inspected.

These data make it possible to systematise the condition of cultural facilities in the liberated territories for their restoration and preservation.

Report on monitoring by the Ministry of Culture of the Republic of Azerbaijan

Conduct of monitoring

For the purpose of implementing paragraph 7.8 of the Decree of the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan, representatives of the Ministry of Culture conducted initial monitoring in the liberated territories, including the Shusha, Jabrayil, Fuzuli, Zangilan, Khojavend, Qubadli, Aghdam and Kalbajar districts. As a result of the monitoring, of 933 facilities, 864 facilities were identified, including: 462 libraries, 348 club institutions, 20 museums, 26 art schools, 2 theatres, 2 galleries, 3 cinemas. 858 facilities are in an unfit condition.

Identified and missing facilities: The location of 69 facilities (28 libraries, 23 clubs, 1 school, 1 theatre, 16 cinemas) could not be determined.

Monitoring in November–December 2023: Additional monitoring was conducted in Khankendi, Khojavend, Khojaly, Askeran and Agdere. Inspected: 29 buildings and 37 institutions. Information on the dates of construction of the buildings is absent.

Overall monitoring result: A total of 901 facilities were inspected (864 previously identified and 37 new ones).

Completion of monitoring: Monitoring has been completed in the Fuzuli, Zangilan and Qubadli districts. In the remaining districts, the following remain uninspected: Jabrayil — 6 settlements (10 facilities), Aghdam — 18 settlements (33 facilities), Kalbajar — 4 settlements (7 facilities), Khojavend — 34 settlements (46 facilities), Shusha — 19 settlements (41 facilities).

Cultural facilities and archival data: In order to obtain information on cultural and historical facilities prior to the occupation, the Ministry of Culture sent a request to the National Archival Directorate. The Directorate provided data on 12 institutions and photographs.

Libraries

According to the National Archival Directorate (28.02.2022), information on libraries is incomplete, and specific data were not obtained. According to the response of the State Statistical Committee (16.03.2022), during the occupation the following were destroyed: 10 centralised library systems (Shusha, Fuzuli, Jabrayil, Lachin, Kalbajar, Aghdam, Zangilan, Qubadli, Khojaly, Khojavend).

General information: 927 libraries were destroyed in the occupied territories, including infrastructure, library collections, as well as accounting records relating to the printed and other materials kept there.

Report on the condition of libraries, museums and cultural heritage sites in the liberated territories

Centralised Library Systems (CLS)

Centralised library systems were created in the USSR. Within the unified library structure, territorial division was taken into account, since libraries performed the functions of centres of party ideology. In this connection, libraries were opened even in the most remote villages. After Azerbaijan gained independence, they became State property. Libraries operated in 927 of 938 territorial units. 927 libraries were destroyed, whose collections contained approximately 4.6 million copies of books. Statistics indicate that the libraries of the Agdash district contained approximately 295 000 books, while the Fuzuli district contained more than 300 000 books. Similarly, other libraries contained collections of a comparable nature.

Museums

In the liberated territories, thousands of items of tangible cultural heritage were subjected to destruction and looting. The activities of 22 museums were discontinued. Thousands of exhibits disappeared from or were destroyed in their collections.

Research conducted in the archives made it possible to collect statistical data on museums that existed prior to the occupation: 14 museums (for example, the Aghdam Bread Museum, the House-Museum of Bulbul in Shusha, the Shusha branch of the Azerbaijan National Carpet Museum). The total area of museum buildings was 4723,7 m². The total number of exhibits was 95 435 items.

However, an accurate assessment of the damage is impossible, since the accounting books (inventories) were not evacuated.

Historical and cultural monuments: 705 historical and cultural sites are registered in the liberated territories. The Ministry of Culture identified that numerous unregistered sites of historical, archaeological and architectural significance are also located in these territories.

These data require further study and documentation in order to assess the damage and restore cultural heritage sites.

Report on the inventory of cultural heritage sites in the liberated territories

Conduct of the inventory

The inventory of cultural heritage sites began after the end of the 44-day war in 2020 and continues to this day. Despite the difficulties of access to the territories due to the presence of minefields, it was possible to collect numerous facts and data concerning the damage caused during the period of occupation.

Facts identified

1. Use of cultural heritage sites for military purposes:

- Certain Christian churches were used by the occupiers as military positions.

Islamic monuments were subjected to vandalism, desecration and were used as animal stalls.

2. Vandalism and destruction:

- Inscriptions in the Armenian language were made on the walls of a number of monuments.
- Unlawful archaeological excavations and restoration works were carried out.
- 10 mosques were completely destroyed, 14 were used as stalls, 5 mosques were subjected to changes in their intended use.
- 7 mausoleums were completely destroyed.

3. Christian monuments:

- In two churches in the Khojavend district, traces were found of their use as military positions.
- Inscriptions in Cyrillic and Armenian letters were found on the walls of three Christian churches.
- Feeders, remains of hay and manure were found in two churches.

4. Minefields around sites:

- Mines were found around cemeteries and one mausoleum.

Damaged and destroyed monuments

- 47 monuments were completely destroyed.
- 125 monuments were partially destroyed or are in a state of disrepair.
- 59 monuments require urgent restoration.
- 90 monuments can be restored within the shortest possible period.

Assessment of damage

- The State Service for the Protection, Development and Restoration of Cultural Heritage of the Ministry of Culture and the Scientific Research and Design Institute

“Azerbarpa” calculated the damage to 214 architectural monuments in the following districts:

- Aghdam (25 monuments),
- Jabrayil (15 monuments),
- Fuzuli (41 monuments),
- Kalbajar (7 monuments),
- Lachin (39 monuments),
- Qubadli (25 monuments),
- Terter (4 monuments),
- Khojaly (3 monuments),
- Khojavend (46 monuments),
- Zangilan (9 monuments).

The total damage to 214 monuments amounted to 351,309,600 manats.

Methodology for calculating damage

- The damage was calculated on the basis of experience from previous restoration works and standards used in the restoration of sites.
- The methodology from the book “Assessment of Historical and Cultural Monuments in the Occupied Districts of Azerbaijan according to International Standards” was applied using the following formula:

$D = D_b (1 + \sum K_i) - A$, where:

- D_b — cost of restoration of the site;
- K_i — coefficient of the value of the site;
- A — degree of deterioration of the site.

Conclusion

The inventory identified extensive damage to cultural heritage sites caused by vandalism and unlawful use. The conduct of further work on documentation, assessment and restoration remains a relevant task.

Thus, the material damage caused to the 11-span Khudafarin Bridge, located in the Jabrayil district, was assessed on the basis of the report at 4 100 000 (four million one hundred thousand) manats, while the total amount of material and moral damage, calculated on the basis of the formula presented in the aforementioned book, amounted to 65 520 000 (sixty-five million five hundred and twenty thousand) manats.

It is noted that our side determined only the amount required to restore the monument to its former condition.

The initially submitted certificate contains information on 79 monuments located in the liberated territories.

The collection contains:

- photographs reflecting the current condition of each monument;
- archival materials;
- geographical coordinates;
- brief historical and descriptive information on the monuments.

In addition, a comparative analysis of changes to the monuments by period was carried out using satellite images. Images from different years were used (Nizhnyaya Gallery, 1970s–1980s, Google Earth, 2001–2020), and notes were also made concerning destruction that occurred during the specified periods.

In the Jabrayil, Aghdam, Fuzuli, Kalbajar, Lachin, Qubadli, Khojavend and Zangilan districts, the cost of restoring 64 of the 79 damaged monuments was assessed at 85 766 000 manats. The amount of damage caused to 7 monuments was not determined.

As regards the remaining 8 monuments:

- With respect to 5 monuments, the Heydar Aliev Foundation carried out restoration and rehabilitation works at a total cost of 12 218 755 manats.
- For 3 monuments on which works are continuing, 13 093 000 manats were allocated.

Note: 7 sites from the list submitted by the Foundation are not included in the processed list of 79 monuments. Of these, 16 monuments are located in the city of Shusha.

There are 196 monuments in the city of Shusha. Taking into account that 2 sites are mentioned twice in the list, 2 sites are busts, and 1 site consists of fortress walls, the assessment was carried out on the basis of 191 monuments. Taking into account that sections of the fortress walls damaged during the war were also restored, the total amount of damage caused is estimated at approximately 372 million manats.

In preparing the certificate, the following were used:

- passports and drawings from the Soviet period, kept in the archives of the Scientific Research and Design Institute “Azerrestavrasiya”,
- as well as archival materials from various scientific publications and Internet resources.

In response to a request sent on 31.10.2023 to the Closed Joint-Stock Company “Azerbaijan Television and Radio Broadcasting”, the Company’s response letter dated 21.11.2023 No. 13-6/2-04/1-577/2023 and the video disk appended thereto, during the viewing on 20.11.2023, established the following: The video recording entitled “Video Materials” is presented in mp4 format, has a size of 7,33 GB and a duration of 1 hour 41 minutes 49 seconds. The said recording was played. The video footage shows: Several men, neatly dressed in jackets and ties, are having a conversation, but their speech cannot be heard, there is no sound. The frame then changes, and mountainous areas in snowy weather are shown, where many people, including children, women and men, are walking. At that time, the narrator speaks in Russian. At times his voice cannot be heard, but later it is restored; however, the sound is transmitted in fragments, and in translation the semantic connection between the sentences is lost. During the viewing of the video disk, the narrator’s speech was translated and recorded. The following fragments were voiced in the narrator’s text: “In three days 200 000 people were deported, defenceless people died and froze in snowy mountain passes and forests... We will not say much about the genocide committed against the Azerbaijani population. Although, from the point of view of international law, everything that happened in November 1988 can be classified as children’s crimes. We will not inflame emotions, just remember when the word ‘refugee’ was first uttered. In the third year of perestroika, this word unexpectedly acquired a new meaning. Soviet... According to the correspondent from Moscow, the militants came to the destroyed winery for wine in order to celebrate. Then who were those who defended the territory of Armenia, and who ultimately attacked? A year or at some time it was a factory... these places are Azerbaijani lands, this is a village that originally belonged to Azerbaijan... What complicated national problems... How many peoples were forced? How many thousands here were forced? Who appeared suddenly under the cover of night? And then who remained unpunished? And in broad daylight with weapons in their hands, with a cross around their neck... The border war is becoming increasingly fierce, and we say that in our interethnic conflicts innocent people, including women, the elderly and children, are dying. Soldiers who today are dying in other places... what is their fault? And existence at some time became an obstacle on the path to the creation of a Greater Armenia from sea to sea on the territory of a small Soviet Republic... You advocate independence and the right to self-determination in the name of some indefinite but great idea, but all of this has a very specific name — provocation. This must also be regarded as an act of intimidation and as the first link in the main chain. Destruction of railway tracks... and then, when communications were paralysed... the speeches, cries and arguments of lawyers have their own logic...". The said materials were appended to the case, including the video recording and the translation of the narrator's speech.

The village of Akvashet, located on the border of Armenia and Azerbaijan, is large, well-maintained, probably it has strong and hard-working owners who, apparently, live comfortably. In Spitak, some families are expelled from their homes, 36 persons die, unable to withstand torture, 70 young children are placed in pipes and killed before the eyes of their parents... On the Tbilisi-Baku route a bus is blown up, 5 persons are killed, 25 sustain injuries. On 18 February 1990, at the 105th kilometre of the Yerevan-Lachin road, a bus travelling on the Shusha-Baku route is blown up, with a large number of casualties. On 10 August 1990, on the Tbilisi-Aghdam route a bus is blown up, 20 persons are killed, 30 sustain serious injuries... During the explosion of the Moscow-Baku passenger train, 11 persons are killed, 22 sustain injuries.

On 20 November 1991, near the village of Karakend, Khojavend district, a Mi-8 helicopter is fired upon and then explodes. The crew and passengers, a total of 19 persons, are killed... A Mi-8 helicopter travelling on the Aghdam-Shusha route explodes near the city of Shusha as a result of actions by Armenian terrorists, as a result of which 44 persons are killed, including many women and children... in January 1992 Armenian terrorist groups kill 80 persons in the settlement of Karkijahan. In February 1992, of the 117 persons taken hostage in the village of Garadaghly, Khojavend district, all are shot, 10 are burned alive. On 19 March 1994, as a result of an explosion carried out at the "20 January" station of the Baku Metro, 14 persons are killed, 49 sustain injuries... A person with a camera runs after a serviceman in uniform speaking Azerbaijani: "Come here, or here", and moves towards some mountainous area where a helicopter is waiting nearby, into which the bodies of the deceased are being loaded. At that time, the phrase can be heard: "I, help, uncover the face", and the body of a woman is visible on the ground. Azerbaijani soldiers, speaking in their native language, are crying. Not far from one of them lie the bodies of other deceased persons. Judging by the nature of the injuries on the bodies, it is apparent that these people were subjected to cruel torture. Throughout the mountainous area, the bodies of deceased persons are scattered on the ground. Later they are loaded into helicopters..."

During the further viewing of the video disk, the principal images were described.

Of the events described, the following fragments are highlighted:

“Later the frame changes again, and a setting resembling life in resettlement is visible: women carrying children move about. Footage appears of people who have sustained various injuries, but, despite their speech, because of the absence of sound effects no sound can be heard. Clothing, bedding and various items of furniture can be seen in a chaotic condition, scattered in empty places and mountainous areas.

The wounded and the dead are lowered from a helicopter, and scenes of women crying can be seen. The footage then shows mountainous areas and a settlement located in a valley between mountains, filmed from a helicopter from the air. The frames change: destroyed buildings, [unclear in the source], armed people, ruins. A frame then appears of a red bus bearing the inscription ‘Baku’; it is destroyed and mangled, and a body is visible lying on the ground.

Later several vehicles are shown, as though blown up by mines, torn apart, with the bodies of the deceased scattered on the ground and on the road. Frozen bodies are visible, which other people carry on stretchers. Destroyed buses and trains after explosions are shown.”

The footage shows the burned bodies of passengers of the helicopter shot down on 20 November 1991 near the village of Karakend, Khojavend district. Then numerous barefoot women, children and elderly persons are visible, relocating from Khojaly and other districts in 1992 without warm clothing, in snowy weather.

The bodies of the deceased are shown, and then Armenian soldiers speaking Armenian dance. Armed Armenian soldiers move in detachments through mountain forests. Then Armenian servicemen, speaking Armenian, capture Azerbaijani servicemen speaking Azerbaijani, subject them to various forms of torture, force them to lick clothing and sing the Azerbaijani anthem. On the faces of the captured soldiers, crying on the ice, traces of various injuries are visible.”

Later the sound of vehicles can be heard, and the date 17 May 1992 is displayed on the screen. Several bodies are visible lying in different positions on the road. Tanks and vehicles carrying Armenian servicemen speaking Armenian pass by. The area resembles a mountainous rural road.

During the viewing of the video disk, photographs were taken of certain scenes and included in the record. These photographs documented numerous atrocities, killings, deportations and acts of terror committed by Armenians against Azerbaijanis during different periods of time.”

On the basis of a request sent on 30.10.2023 to the State Security Service of the Republic of Azerbaijan (letter No. 2-2-03/2-5729/2023), and the response of the said Service dated 24.11.2023 (letter No. 3/2986-28.11.23), to which 27 sheets and 6 CD disks containing non-classified data were appended, the following was established:

1. Members of the self-proclaimed entity “Artsakh” and unlawful armed formations were supplied with various weapons and ammunition, which were delivered to the aforementioned territories predominantly from the territory of the Republic of Armenia.

2. A number of mines and other devices bear dates of manufacture, such as 2020, which confirms that these mines were brought in not only during previous periods, but also during the 44-day Patriotic War and thereafter. The aforementioned territories were subjected to mining during that and subsequent periods.

In addition, two documents in the Russian language are presented in the annex to the letter, from which it follows that the Republic of Armenia acquired from the Russian Federation two anti-tank missile systems on the basis of contracts No. 148-10765 dated 05.07.2019 and No. P/2005106120468 dated 26.06.2020. Despite the fact that the missiles were officially purchased by Armenia, their discovery in the territory of the self-proclaimed regime confirms their unlawful delivery from that country.

Following the liberation of the occupied territories, a significant quantity of weapons, ammunition and equipment was discovered in those territories. Among them were large-calibre weapons, tanks, artillery and other types of military equipment, which once again confirms that the unlawful armed formations were well equipped for use against the Republic of Azerbaijan, its citizens and territorial integrity. Numerous devices were also rendered safe in those territories.

Inspection results: From 19.09.2023, 499 vehicles (Komatsu, UAZ, KamAZ, Ural, etc.) and 10 trailers were identified. As a result of the local anti-terrorist operations, 522 vehicles (passenger vehicles, trucks, specialised vehicles) were seized. 160 units of various armoured vehicles were captured: 1 T-90S tank, 71 T-72 tanks, 22 BMP-2 infantry fighting vehicles, 19 MT-LB ZK-20/3 “Zastava” armoured vehicles, 1 BTR, 1 MBP-1, 1 BRDM-2, 3 “TOR-2M” systems, 12 “Shturm-S” systems, etc. 15 425 units of small arms (assault rifles, pistols, sniper rifles, machine guns, etc.). 230 mortars, 137 anti-tank weapons, 162 artillery pieces. 1 419 optical devices, 1 540 bulletproof vests, 5 320 units of military property. 16 790 478 rounds of ammunition for small arms. 35 621 mortar shells. 3 994 artillery shells. 9 353 explosive devices. 41 522 hand grenades. 221 guided anti-tank missiles.

he performed military service in the army of the former USSR. In 1992, he graduated from the Faculty of History and Law of the Khankendi Pedagogical Institute. D. Ishkhanyan supported the “Karabakh” movement; in 1989, he joined the “Dashnaktsutyun” party, and in 1991 was elected a “deputy” of the “parliament” of the separatist regime. During the First Karabakh War, he “served” in the “defence army” of the self-proclaimed regime and was commander of the 28th battalion of Aghdara District. After leaving the “army” in 1995, he worked until 2000 as director of the secondary school of the village of Geshan. In 2000–2005, he was head of the community of the village of Geshan, and in 2007–2021 he was a “representative” of the “Dashnaktsutyun” party in Nagorno-Karabakh. In 2020, he again became a “deputy” of the “parliament”, and on 7 August 2023 was elected “speaker of parliament”.

After being elected “speaker of parliament”, D. Ishkhanyan made a number of statements against the territorial integrity of the Republic of Azerbaijan. In an interview with the “1in TV” channel on YouTube on 7 August, he stated: “We will continue the struggle at any cost to protect and strengthen the ‘statehood of Artsakh’. All our efforts will be directed towards achieving the strategic goal formed from the first days of the national-liberation struggle in 1988.” He also added that “parliament is a body that has the right to speak on behalf of the people, and it is not surprising that the main goal of internal and external forces is to destroy this institution”.

On 22 August, an address by D. Ishkhanyan appeared on social media in which he asserted: “As a ‘citizen of the Republic of Artsakh’ and ‘speaker of parliament’, I have always fought for the creation and strengthening of institutions representing the ‘president of Artsakh’, ‘parliament’ and other structures of power.” On 30 August, at a press conference, he stated that discussions in international organisations and the media provide an opportunity to strengthen the “right to subjectivity” of the self-proclaimed “NKR”. D. Ishkhanyan emphasised that discussions in the UN Security Council and other organisations could in the future contribute to determining the “status of the republic”. He also stated that the “struggle of the people of Artsakh”, which allegedly began after the forcible incorporation into the Azerbaijan SSR, continues to this day.

In addition, D. Ishkhanyan opposed Azerbaijan's sending humanitarian aid via the Aghdam–Khankendi road, stating that the “decision” to block it had been taken by the leadership of the separatist regime, and added that only the “Lachin Corridor” could be used. On 5 September, he sent an open letter to the heads of the parliaments of Russia, Iran, France, the United States and European countries, calling on them to exert pressure on Azerbaijan. In the letter, he asserted: “Despite the constant threats of the ‘brutal regime of Azerbaijan’, we have created a democratic society to which many aspire.” He also accused Azerbaijan of “prohibiting” humanitarian transport through the state checkpoint established on the Hakari Bridge on 15 June.

On 16 February 2021, at a meeting with representatives of the Russian peacekeeping contingent temporarily operating in the territory of the Karabakh economic region, he stated that on 17 February 13–18 bodies of Azerbaijanis would be handed over to the Armenian side and called this “a gift to Azerbaijan after the Khojaly genocide”.

On the basis of an analysis, carried out on 18 December 2023, of the video recording entitled “18 + 1 ci Qarabağ döyüşü. Erməni çəkilişi”, published on the YouTube platform at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NR6lItrurjk>, it was established that Armenian armed formations in the 1990s grossly violated the provisions of the relevant Convention on the rights of prisoners of war. The video material confirms cases of cruel treatment of Azerbaijani prisoners, humiliation of their honour and dignity, as well as the use of torture.

The video depicts real combat scenes involving various armoured vehicles and armed persons in military uniform firing in different directions. Subsequent footage shows the bodies of killed Azerbaijani servicemen in military uniform lying on the ground.

At 12:05 of the video, an Azerbaijani serviceman held captive by Armenian armed formations is shown. A conversation in Russian is taking place between the parties. The captive serviceman, being in a frightened state, attempts to convince his captors that he did not kill Armenians during the battle and swears that this is so. However, the armed persons mock and insult him.

The captive is then interrogated and asked in which brigade he served, who his commander was, and other information. During the interrogation, one of the armed Armenians grabs the captive by the collar, uses force, throws him to the ground and subjects him to violence. The captive can be heard groaning. He is then lifted up and the interrogation continues, and traces of blood are visible on the right side of his face.

After that, the captive is subjected to humiliation: he is forced to clean the uniform of one of the armed Armenians with his tongue. This episode ends at 14:00.

In the following footage, at 14:39, Armenian armed formations are shown engaging in looting in a destroyed area. At 17:40, numerous Azerbaijani servicemen who have been taken prisoner are shown. The Armenians line them up and force them to perform the “March of Azerbaijan”, while insulting them and mocking them personally. Various injuries are visible on the faces of the captives.

The 1st DD was created in September 1992 in the territory of Hadrut District on the basis of previously existing volunteer detachments and separate groups. The purpose of its creation was to prevent regular attacks from military positions located in Azerbaijani villages of the border district against neighbouring Armenian settlements. Before the creation of a regular military unit within the Armenian army, the self-defence of the district was limited to local defensive operations and, at times, unexpected counterattacks.

The first commander of the district was Artur Aghabekyan, who had previously led the self-defence of the Greater Taghlar gorge. On 17 May, the first volunteer detachments entered the villages of Khandadzor and Chor. To begin operations, on 20 and 23 May, two self-defence detachments were sent to the villages of Karaglukh and Mulkudere. At that time, the defence of the settlement of Edilli was headed by a detachment under the command of Manvel Grigoryan, who had arrived from Echmiadzin.

In the autumn of 1991, a career officer of the Soviet Army, the then little-known Colonel Arkady Ter-Tadevosyan (“Komandos”), arrived in Hadrut. After the operation against Azerbaijani positions in the village of Tugh, which he personally led, he became widely known.

On 29 October, a meeting of commanders of self-defence detachments was held in Degadzor, with the participation of representatives from Khankendi, to decide on the commencement of offensive operations. Despite its short duration, the meeting took place in a tense atmosphere. The start of hostilities was scheduled for 17:00, but was slightly delayed.

According to the combat plan, part of the forces was concentrated in the area known as Limanabad, in the eastern part of the settlement of Tugh, in order to prevent support for the Azerbaijanis arriving from Fuzuli.

The offensive against Tugh was led by Colonel Arkady Ter-Tadevosyan (“Komandos”). At 17:15, Armenian detachments occupied the positions provided for by the plan, blocking paths and roads leading to Azerbaijani villages. The military operation proceeded quickly and without unnecessary noise. By 19:00, the settlement of Tugh had been occupied. Members of the detachment Vigen Grigoryan, Armen Gasparyan, Ruben Balayan, Slavik Sarkisyan and others took an active part in the operation.

Two weeks after the operation in Tugh, on 14 November, the settlement of Shakheri was occupied. On 2 January 1992, information was received at the district self-defence headquarters about an offensive by Azerbaijani forces in the direction of the village of Kochbek. By bringing in additional forces, the attack was repelled.

In the winter and spring of 1992, the situation in some border areas of the conflict zone and in Hadrut remained relatively stable.

From January to May 1992, several important events took place that were of considerable significance for the Armenians, including the elimination of Azerbaijani positions around Khankendi, the creation of the Self-Defence Committee under the Council of Ministers of the “NKR”, and the occupation of Shusha.

The detachments and groups operating in Hadrut District, in addition to guarding the borders, sought to transform themselves into units meeting the requirements of conventional combat. This process began with the command of the Greater Taghlar detachment. Within a short period, a battalion was formed there, which declared its readiness to subordinate itself to the headquarters of the self-defence forces of the “NKR” and to follow its decisions. Subsequently, this process was also implemented by other detachments.

On 27 June, Azerbaijani forces began an offensive against the villages of Tugh and Drakhtik, taking Armenian positions under control by sudden strikes. At that time, the commander of the Greater Taghlar battalion, Artur Aghabekyan, contacted Serzh Sargsyan and reported the risk of losing the territory, requesting assistance. Serzh Sargsyan gave Aghabekyan two hours and instructed him to go to Krasny Bazar to meet reinforcements from Khankendi under the command of Seyran Ohanyan.

However, Azerbaijani army tanks soon entered Krasny Bazar. One part of the defensive line was defended by Manvel Grigoryan’s volunteers, and the other by the Greater Taghlar battalion. After midday, Armenian units advanced towards the village of Tugh and took it under control. During the operation, the Azerbaijani side lost 10 persons. On the Armenian side, Edik Ayriyan, a company commander of the Greater Taghlar detachment, as well as one child, were killed.

By the evening, detachments from Sevan and Goris, as well as volunteers and military equipment from Khankendi, were additionally delivered to Hadrut. In addition, Armen Gasparyan brought anti-tank weapons to Hadrut.

During the same period, Azerbaijani units attacked the village of Chor and captured it. Two days later, on 29 June, Azerbaijani forces again launched an attack against the villages of Tugh and Drakhtik. At the beginning of the battle, the Azerbaijanis, supported by a large quantity of armoured vehicles, managed to break through the resistance of the Armenian forces and advance towards the winery in the village of Tugh. However, after several hours of intense fighting, the offensive of the Azerbaijani forces was halted, and by evening they withdrew to their original positions. The second attempt by the Azerbaijani forces to capture the villages of Tugh and Drakhtik ended unsuccessfully.

In July and August, the situation in Hadrut District remained relatively calm.

Artur Aghabekyan, the first commander of the Hadrut defence district, stated that at the beginning of July he was summoned to Khankendi and offered command of the combined command of the district’s detachments. He refused, pointing to unresolved problems that concerned him in the district. Serzh Sargsyan replied: “In that case Hadrut will be surrendered, so decide for yourselves.” Igor Muradyan and Valery Balayan were also present at the meeting. At that time, the commanders of the self-defence detachments in Hadrut were Samvel Grigoryan, Armencho and Saro from Sarinshen.

At Aghabekyan's proposal, fortified districts in Tugh, Hadrut, Edilli and Khiaberd-Shakheri were created under a unified command. Having discussed and assessed all the issues, Aghabekyan accepted Khankendi's proposal.

On 14 July 1992, on the basis of an order of the chairman of the Self-Defence Forces Committee of the "NKR" on the creation of combat defence zones, the "Hadrut Combat Operations Zone" was created. Artur Aghabekyan was appointed commander and Armen Abrahamyan chief of staff. Pursuant to that order, three motorised rifle battalions and three separate companies were created.

1st (Hadrut) motorised rifle battalion: permanent place of deployment — Hadrut settlement. Commander: Artur Sarkisyan; chief of staff: Viktor Abrahamyan.

2nd (Tugh) motorised rifle battalion: permanent place of deployment — village of Tugh. Commander: Vachagan Ayriyan; chief of staff: Vigen Grigoryan.

3rd (Edilli) motorised rifle battalion: permanent place of deployment — village of Edilli. Commander: Manvel Grigoryan; chief of staff: Frunze Avagyan.

Separate (Sarinshen) company: permanent place of deployment — village of Sarinshen. Commander: Saro Sardaryan; chief of staff: Valery Ayvazyan.

Separate (Keshataghlar) company: permanent place of deployment — village of Keshataghlar. Commander: Eduard Ayvazyan.

Separate tank battalion: permanent place of deployment — Hadrut settlement. Commander: Kamo Poghosyan.

Vladimir Sarkisyan was appointed deputy commander of the defence district for logistical support; Saro Hakobyan — for armament; Gamo Dadunts — head of communications; Aramays Atayany — head of the ammunition supply service; Vilen Ayrapetyan — head of the motor transport service; Garnik Aleksanyan — head of the medical service.

According to the order dated 26 July, within five days it was instructed to attack Azerbaijani positions located at height 1020.0 and reach the village of Norashen, liberating the Armenian villages in that area, and also to reach coordinate 7779. At the same time, a joint "Hajjar" operation was planned with the participation of the 2nd battalion of the Hadrut defence district and the Khojavend self-defence forces.

On 15 August 1992, the Azerbaijani side again began an offensive in the direction of Hadrut and captured the village of Melikashen. In that battle, Arayik Harutyunyan destroyed an Azerbaijani tank. After that, Armenian forces carried out a counterattack and achieved their objectives.

On 14 August 1992, on the basis of Order No. 002, the 6th defence district was created.

By the end of August and the beginning of September, the situation on the south-eastern sector of the front deteriorated again. From 31 August, the Azerbaijani side began concentrating manpower and equipment in various directions. The command of the 1st defence district distributed forces among various sectors, using reserves of manpower and equipment.

At the positions in the direction of the "Lachin Corridor", the situation remained difficult. Strikes were also carried out in the direction of Qubadli-Zangilan and Kalbajar.

On 6 February, the commander of the 1st defence district signed Order No. 001 "On the Development of an Offensive Strategy". The order stated: "Using the forces of the 1st and 2nd defence districts, conduct an offensive operation in the Hajjar-Govshatly direction. Concentrate all forces and plan actions on the basis of reconnaissance data. Constantly monitor the movement of the ‘enemy’ and report daily on the situation.” In accordance with the order, preparations were envisaged for a sufficient quantity of forces and resources to conduct the operation. Unit commanders were required to report on implementation of the order by 22:00 on 31 March 1993.

In mid-March, several units were selected from various defence districts, including a detachment of 120 persons under the command of chief of staff Armen Abrahamyan. This detachment was sent to the area. The military operation began on 27 March. The offensive was conducted in three different directions.

As a result of the sudden attack, the Azerbaijani side abandoned the settlements of Aghdaban, Charaktar, Nareshtar and Tazakend, temporarily occupying positions in the north-western part of the border. On 29 March, Azerbaijani strongpoints in the villages of Yenikend and Aghjakend in Kalbajar District were captured. On the following day, the villages of Bagyrly, Kechilikaya and Chorman came under the control of Armenian forces, and on 1 April — Kalbajar.

On the basis of the combat order of the commander of the 1st MR, on 2 April the 1st MR began the military operation “Hajjar-Govshatly”. The main direction of the attack was Shakhrubenayl. The forces of the 14th and 15th battalions were concentrated in that direction. As a result of the operation, the heights of Shakhrubenayl and Khazaz were occupied. Two days later, on 4 April, units of the 1st MR carried out an attack and captured the height of Megelenata (Sacred Poplar).

On 5 April, fighting resumed in that direction. As a result, 7 Armenians were killed, including Vigen Grigoryan, chief of staff of the 14th motorised rifle battalion.

The following took part in the “Hajjar-Govshatly” operation: the 14th motorised rifle battalion (commander Armen Gasparyan), the 15th motorised rifle battalion (commander Artur Sarkisyan), the tank company (commander Garik Hakobyan), the reconnaissance company (commander Robert Hambardzumyan), and the 1st motorised rifle battalion (commander Manvel Grigoryan).

At the end of June, the command of the 1st MR developed the “Norashen-Khatynbulag-Aresh” operation. The main forces were concentrated in the direction of the village of Suleymanli (Jabrayil). On 2 July at 00:00, the units occupied their positions; at 03:45, the commanders reported readiness, and hostilities began in the morning. On 2 July, the forces of the 1st MR entered the villages of Karadagly and Norashen, and on 5 July, with the assistance of the 83rd brigade, took up positions in the settlements of Khatynbulag and Aresh. Within 5 days they advanced 10 kilometres.

On 24 July, the village of Zargyar, one of the key defensive points of Fuzuli, was occupied.

On 15 August, Armenian forces attacked in the Govshatly-Zargyar direction, captured the village of Garamammadli and advanced towards Fuzuli.

On the same day, the 1st and 2nd MR jointly attacked the city of Fuzuli. The fighting continued for three days, and the positions of the Azerbaijani Armed Forces in that direction were occupied.

On 22 August, units of the 1st and 2nd MR occupied Fuzuli District, the area of which is 1,380 km².

On 31 August, as a result of the joint actions of the 1st and 6th MR, Qubadli District was occupied.

On 24 October, fighting began in the direction of Kuyjak and Sheybey (Jabrayil). The objective of the attack was Horadiz station. The Central, 1st and 2nd MR participated in the operation. On the same day, the specified districts and Horadiz station were occupied. Hostilities then continued in the direction of Jabrayil.

By the beginning of November, all villages of Hadrut District had been occupied.

On 4 January, Azerbaijani forces began an offensive. As of 5 January, the positions defended by the 54th separate motorised rifle battalion, the 3rd rifle battalion (commander Artur Grigoryan) and the 5th rifle battalion (commander Artur Sarkisyan) remained unchanged.

On 7 January, Armenian units advanced from the south-eastern defensive line to the opposite side of the front in the areas of the villages of Ashaghy Abdurakhmanli, Yukhary Seyidahmedli and Garakhanbeyli. The 71st separate battalion and the Central MR were sent to this area to maintain control of the situation.

Until mid-February, the situation in this direction remained stable. The operations involved DIN and other volunteers who had arrived from Armenia.

In order to restore the positions lost in January, a new operation involving the Central and 4th MR was planned for the end of February.

On 28 February, the Chief of Staff of the Ministry of Defence, Colonel Seyran Ohanyan, who was directing the fighting in the south-eastern direction, addressed the personnel. Seyran Ohanyan took an active part in operations from December 1993 until the end of hostilities.

On 4 March, during the fighting, Armenian forces surrounded Ashaghy Seyidahmedli. Garik Hakobyan, commander of the tank battalion, was killed. The operation in Ashaghy Seyidahmedli became the last operation in Karabakh.

2nd and 3rd defence districts:

To organise the defence of the front, Monte Melkonyan assigned to Movses Hakobyan, commander of the self-defence forces of Jaratara, responsibility for the southern flank of the line of hostilities extending from Bertashen to the Krasny Bazar valley. He himself directed the fighting in the northern direction.

To the east of Krasny Bazar, the main defence was organised by detachments under the command of Karen Alaverdyan and Saak Poghosyan. The defensive line extended from the Fuzuli River to the eastern part of the village of Shekher.

After the fighting on 28 June 1992, the 5th volunteer battalion from Khankendi was sent to the area of operations.

By decision of the Self-Defence Committee, Seyran Ohanyan arrived in Krasny Bazar.

On 17 November 1991, Khojavend self-defence detachments destroyed the settlements of Khojavend and Karvin, as well as the administrative centre of the district.

On 22 February 1992, the district's self-defence detachments were tasked with eliminating a firing point located in the village of Yukhary Veysalli, administratively subordinate to Fuzuli District, thereby ensuring communication between the district centre and the villages. The task was carried out under the command of Movses Hakobyan.

On 5 May 1992, under the personal leadership of Monte Melkonyan and Colonel Hmayak Aroyan, an operation was carried out to capture Azerbaijani positions located in the villages of Abdal and Gyulably in Aghdam District; however, the operation ended unsuccessfully. The following units and their commanders took part in the operation: Jaratara Battalion, first commander Movses Hakobyan; Krasny Bazar Battalion, commander Arushan Badasyan; Madjkalashen Battalion, commander Armen Melkumyan; 1st Khojavend Battalion, commander Mavr Ohanyan; 2nd Khojavend Battalion, commander Meruzhan Mosiyan; Bertashen Battalion, commander Nelson Soghomonyan; Ashan Battalion, commander David Ishkhanyan.

For the purpose of ensuring centralised command of the newly formed battalions, in mid-July 1992, by order of the chairman of the Committee of Self-Defence of the NKR, the territory was divided into defence zones. One of them was the combat operations zone in Khojavend, covering the territory from the south of the Fuzuli River to the southern part of Askeran District.

For the formation of the headquarters of the Khojavend defence district, by decision of the NKR Self-Defence Committee, Colonel Hmayak Aroyan, Lieutenant Colonels Grant Shamkhalyan, Miron Vardanyan, Vostanik Adoyan, Sergey Beklaryan and Sergey Melikyan were sent to Khojavend.

The duties of chief of staff of the Khojavend defence district were initially performed by Lieutenant Colonel Miron Vardanyan, then by Saro Yeremyan, and at the end of August by Abrek Ayrapetyan. Saro Yeremyan was appointed deputy commander of the defence district.

On 4 September 1992, the Armed Forces of Azerbaijan began an offensive from positions in Abdal and Gyulably in Aghdam District against defensive positions in the settlements of Avdur, Chorekli (Khatsi) and Yenikend (Norshen). The operation began with the participation of two military helicopters. Monte Melkonyan and Colonel Aroyan arrived in the combat zone to organise the defence. The command of the NKR forces immediately concentrated reserves in the main direction of the offensive, and the attack was repelled.

By decision of the command, a reconnaissance detachment penetrated the rear of units of the Azerbaijani Armed Forces located in Gyulably and, by a sudden attack, forced them to withdraw. At 13:00, the villages of Abdal, Gyulably and the adjacent territories came under the control of Armenian forces. On the following day, the Azerbaijani Armed Forces again began an offensive, but that attack also ended unsuccessfully.

During the specified period, in the vicinity of the administrative territory of Khojavend there were a number of Azerbaijani villages where powerful military systems were deployed. Some firing points were located at a distance of 500 metres from Khojavend. In order to eliminate those firing points, reconnaissance was tasked with studying the terrain, clarifying the situation and putting forward proposals within the shortest possible time. Monte Melkonyan personally participated in carrying out this reconnaissance task.

For the purpose of breaking through the defence of the Armed Forces of Azerbaijan in the specified direction, the command decided to involve personnel of units under the command of Mavr Ohanyan and Serzhan Mosiyan.

To ensure the advance of the attacking units from the flanks, the Jaratara Battalion was to move in a southerly direction towards height Karachuk, and the Bertashen Battalion in a northerly direction.

On 2 October 1992, the firing points were neutralised, and an offensive began in the direction of the heights of Kuropatkino and Karachuk. By midday, Khojavend units had taken Amiryanlar and Kuropatkino under control.

After the operation, on 8 October 1992 a decision was taken to begin an offensive in the direction of Fuzuli. The operation was to be carried out by motorised rifle battalions No. 21 (Krasny Bazar), No. 22 (Madjkalashen) and No. 23 (Jaratara).

On 8 October, units of the defence district began an offensive in the direction of Mount Uryan and height Khazaz. The Jaratara Battalion took control of Mount Uryan from the outset, but the other units were unsuccessful. During the operation, the Krasny Bazar Battalion shot down an Mi-24 helicopter belonging to the Armed Forces of Azerbaijan.

On 5 December 1992, the northern direction of the Khojavend defence zone was tasked with destroying units of the Armed Forces of Azerbaijan deployed in the village of Merzili. The operation was carried out by the Ashan and Bertashen battalions.

On 4 January 1993, Jaratara Battalion No. 24 and battalions Nos. 25 and 26 of the Khojavend urban district began hostilities in the southern direction of the district. The objective was to capture the settlement of Gevorkakan. Units from the city of Khojavend occupied the village of Ashaghy Veysalli, while Jaratara units occupied height Kyzyl Kaya. However, as a result of a counterattack by the Armed Forces of Azerbaijan, height Kyzyl Kaya was again brought under control.

At the end of March 1993, Monte Melkonyan was appointed commander of the forces of the separatist regime in the direction of Kalbajar. The operation began on 27 March. The objective was to capture Kalbajar. A 130-person detachment of units of the Khojavend (Martuni) defence district took part in the operation.

On 27 March, Khojavend soldiers occupied the village of Charakter and then, advancing towards the tunnel connecting the Kalbajar and Lachin districts, blocked the only route. On 2 April 1993, Kalbajar District was occupied.

Movses Hakobyan, deputy commander of the Khojavend defence district, and the commanders of a number of units began preparing operations to capture the heights of Kyzyl Kaya and Khazaz.

On 1 April, Jaratara Battalion No. 24 (commander Karen Tovmasyan) occupied height Kyzyl Kaya and the adjacent territories.

On 2 April, Jaratara Battalion No. 23 (commander Ovik Jivanyan), Madjkalashen Battalion No. 22 (commander Sos Gasparyan) and Krasny Bazar Battalion No. 21 (commander Arushan Badasyan) carried out an operation in the Divanlar-Khazaz-Kachar direction.

On 12 June 1993, under the leadership of Monte Melkonyan, commander of the Khojavend defence district, an offensive began in the south-western direction. On the south-western front, the village of Merzili was captured. The enemy advanced in the direction of Novruzlu-Yusifjanly-Kiyameddinli. The offensive of units of the Askeran regiment in the south-eastern direction ended unsuccessfully.

On 12 June 1993, Lieutenant Colonel Monte Melkonyan, travelling by vehicle through the village of Merzili with four companions, came under fire from Azerbaijani armoured vehicles. Monte Melkonyan, commander of the Khojavend Defence District, and Saribek (Rachik) Martirosyan, head of reconnaissance, were killed. Deputy commander Captain Saro Yeremyan, commander of Rifle Battalion No. 23 Ovik Jivanyan, and the commander's driver, Komitas Avanesyan (subsequently head of reconnaissance of the Defence District), were wounded. Following Monte Melkonyan's death, Movses Hakobyan was appointed acting commander of the Defence District.

In July 1993, the Khojavend Defence District began operations in the direction of Aghdam. Hostilities began on 4 July and continued until 23 July. The operations involved the 27th and 28th battalions of the defence district, companies from units of Khojavend, Jaratara and Madjkalashen, as well as armoured-tank units. On 16 July, the settlements of Bagmanlar and Saybaly were occupied.

On 23 July, an offensive against Aghdam began from three directions — from the north (Askeran), from the east (Central Defence District from Khankendi), and from the south (units of the Khojavend Defence District). On 23 July, the city of Aghdam was occupied.

On 15 August, the settlements of Ashaghy Veysalli, Dilaragda, Gobu Dilaragda, Garvend and the heights around the city of Fuzuli were occupied. Battalion No. 23 took up positions near the television tower, and Battalion No. 24 on the height in front of the village of Garvend.

On 15 August, the Krasny Bazar and Madjkalashen battalions attacked Mount Khazaz from the right and left flanks, captured the village of Yaglyvend and entrenched themselves in the area of the stone quarry west of the city of Fuzuli.

On 22 August, the Khojavend Defence District, together with the 83rd brigade of the 1st Defence District and the mortar battalion of the Central Defence District, began an operation to occupy Fuzuli District. Battalion No. 24 attacked from the north-west, Battalions Nos. 23 and 29 from the north, and Battalions Nos. 21 and 22 from the east. As a result, the settlements of Yukhary Yaglyvend, Dovletyar, Seyidahmedli, Shekedzhik, Garamammadli, Zargyar and others were occupied, after which the units entered the city of Fuzuli.

After the occupation of Fuzuli, part of the units of the Khojavend Defence District was sent in the southern direction, and that group took part in operations for the occupation of Qubadli, which began on 25 August. On 31 August, Qubadli District was occupied.

On 23 October, Rifle Battalions Nos. 21, 22, 23, 25 and 26 of the Khojavend Defence District, together with units of the Hadrut and Central Defence Districts, began an offensive in the Horadiz-Qubadli-Zangilan direction.

By order of the commander of the "Defence Army" of the separatist regime, on 1 December 1993 the Khojavend Defence District was divided into the 2nd and 3rd Defence Districts. The 2nd Defence District (commander Movses Hakobyan) included Battalions Nos. 21, 22, 23 and 24, while the 3rd Defence District (commander Nelson Soghomonyan) included Battalions Nos. 25, 26, 27 and 28.

In December 1993, on the basis of Battalion No. 21 of the 2nd Defence District, the Krasny Bazar and Tagavard battalions were created and incorporated into that Defence District.

- 21st Motorised Rifle Battalion, Krasny Bazar (commander Sahak Poghosyan. Killed on 30 December in fighting in the Karakhanbeyli-Karvend direction).
- 22nd Motorised Rifle Battalion, Tagavard (commander Vanya Khachatryan).
- 23rd Motorised Rifle Battalion, Machkalashen (commander Nelson Harutyunyan).
- 24th Motorised Rifle Battalion, Chartar (commander Sevak Ghukasyan).
- 25th Motorised Rifle Battalion, Chartar (commander Ovik Harutyunyan).

In January 1994, as a result of a counterattack by the Azerbaijani Army, the settlement of Hadrut, the heights of Aghburun and Karagantepe, as well as the adjacent territories, were liberated. The enemy was forced to fortify itself on the Karakhanbeyli-Ashaghy Veysalli-Kuropatkino line. In these battles, Ovik Harutyunyan, commander of the 25th Motorised Rifle Battalion of Chartar, was killed.

In April 1994, the forces of the 2nd Defence District concentrated on the Yarymja-Seysulan-Kyzyloba line. Fighting in that direction continued from mid-April until 5 May. On 26 April, Seysulan was captured.

On 5 May, units of the defence district changed the direction of the offensive and captured the area known as the “3rd State Farm”.

On 1 December 1993, as a result of the reorganisation of the Khojavend Defence District, the 2nd military formation was created, which received the name of the 3rd Defence District.

In the south-eastern direction, a unit of 200 persons under the command of Artur Harutyunyan (selected from the 4th DD) took part in repelling attacks by the Azerbaijani army.

At the initial stage of the operation, the personnel under the command of Martik Jangiryan included driver-mechanic Khrair Abresyan and gunner-operator Garnik Petrosyan.

Hostilities in the eastern direction were headed by the commander of the 4th Defence District (DD), Lieutenant Colonel Vitaly Balasanyan, who was at the command post in Getashen.

In response to request No. 2-2-030/2-016593/2024 dated 08.03.2024, sent to the Personnel Department of the Internal Troops of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of the Republic of Azerbaijan, the department’s response letter dated 08.03.2024 No. 3-13-14/2-1281/2024 states that during the 2020 Patriotic War, 346 members of the Internal Troops were wounded, 66 persons became shahids, and during the anti-terrorist operation conducted in 2023, 12 persons became shahids and 24 persons were wounded.

In the response to the request sent to the Ministry of Defence of the Republic of Azerbaijan, it is apparent from the Ministry’s confidential response and the CD attached to it containing data relating to the investigation that, during the 2020 Patriotic War, the Armenian side conducted negotiations on the specified dates and with particular content, which additionally proves the commission by them of the aforementioned crimes.

The military and political leadership of the Republic of Armenia, its armed forces and other armed formations that controlled the established criminal organization, as well as its other leaders and members, acting on the basis of common criminal intentions and objectives, beginning in 1987, during the aggressive war unleashed against the Republic of Azerbaijan, organized and planned actions accompanied by violations of the norms of international humanitarian law. These actions included the use of methods of warfare resulting in extensive destruction not justified by military necessity; causing large-scale destruction; attacks on undefended territories, populated areas and demilitarized zones; destruction of civilian property in combat zones; violations of ceasefire agreements; attacks on civilian objects and structures causing significant damage. By April 1994, they had occupied the Karabakh region and adjacent territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan, including the cities of Khankendi, Shusha, Lachin, Khojaly, Khojavend, Aghdara, Aghdam, Fuzuli, Jabrayil, Zangilan, Qubadli and Kalbajar, seven villages of the Gazakh District, and the village of Karki in the Sadarak District of the Nakhchivan Autonomous Republic.

Following their forcible expulsion from their lawful places of residence, without grounds provided for by the norms of international law and the laws of the Republic of Azerbaijan, the following persons were displaced: in the Aghdam District — 100,574 persons from 27,922 families; in the Jabrayil District — 52,141 persons from 13,183 families; in the Fuzuli District — 83,544 persons from 22,699 families; in the Kalbajar District — 48,847 persons from 12,050 families; in the Lachin District — 57,047 persons from 13,282 families; in the Qubadli District — 29,539 persons from 7,176 families; in the Tartar (Aghdara) District — 899 persons from 202 families; in the Khojaly District — 7,161 persons; in the city of Khankendi (including Karkijahan) — 2,944 persons; in the Khojavend District — 7,451 persons from 1,359 families; in the Zangilan District — 32,775 persons from 8,210 families; in the Shusha District — 16,299 persons from 5,544 families; in seven villages of the Gazakh District — 3,159 persons from 726 families; and in the village of Karki, Sadarak District of the Nakhchivan Autonomous Republic — 461 persons from 94 families. In total, 442,841 persons from 114,184 families were displaced.

In gross violation of the requirements of the Geneva Convention “Relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War” of August 12, 1949, and with the aim of undermining the state economy of the Republic of Azerbaijan, rendering it incapable of resisting Armenia’s military aggression, creating a tense socio-economic and political situation in the country, and compelling it to leave the occupied sovereign territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan under Armenian jurisdiction, a significant number of citizens were forced to become internally displaced persons.

They were accommodated in various regions of the country in unfinished buildings, dormitories, medical and educational institutions, tent camps, railway cars and other administrative buildings, where conditions necessary for life were effectively absent. In order to provide for the minimum essential needs of the internally displaced persons, improve their material and living conditions, establish temporary tent and Finnish-style settlements, and subsequently construct houses and buildings for their accommodation, as well as to ensure the standard of living of the internally displaced persons of the Republic of Azerbaijan, by 2023, 8,816,009,937 manats had been spent from the state budget and from loans obtained from foreign international companies and banks on social support and improvement of the material and living conditions of the internally displaced...

...internally displaced persons, as well as 15,993,000 manats for the improvement and provision of drinking water, bringing the total amount to 8,832,002,937 manats. These actions caused the state particularly large-scale material damage in the amount of 8,832,002,937 manats.

The military-political leadership of the Republic of Armenia, including its armed forces and other armed formations, as well as persons who provided direct material, technical and personnel support, exercised centralized command, issued oral and written orders, directives and instructions, and maintained strict control. On this basis, an illegal criminal organization operated in the territory of the Republic of Azerbaijan in violation of domestic and international law, together with its structural subdivision consisting of armed formations equipped with various types of weapons, ammunition, military equipment and other means of armament.

In accordance with the common criminal objectives and intentions of each member of the criminal organization, and for the purpose of implementing its criminal plan, the members of these armed formations carried out their activities with the support and consent of the Republic of Armenia at the state level. With the support and consent of the Republic of Armenia at the state level, the norms and principles of international humanitarian law were grossly violated, including: Article 17 of the First Geneva Convention of August 12, 1949 “for the Amelioration of the Condition of the Wounded and Sick in Armed Forces in the Field”; Article 120 of the Third Geneva Convention of August 12, 1949 “relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War”; Articles 34, 130 and 147 of the Fourth Geneva Convention of August 12, 1949 “relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War”; Article 34 of Additional Protocol I of June 8, 1977 to the Geneva Conventions of August 12, 1949 “relating to the Protection of Victims of International Armed Conflicts”; Rules 96, 113, 115 and 116 of customary international law; the UN Convention of December 20, 2006 “for the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance”; the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights of December 10, 1948; the European Convention of November 4, 1950 “for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms” and Protocol No. 1 thereto; the UN International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights of December 16, 1966; the UN Convention of December 10, 1984 “against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment”; the requirements of the Geneva Convention of August 12, 1949 “relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War”; the requirements of Additional Protocol I of June 8, 1977 to the Geneva Conventions of August 12, 1949 “relating to the Protection of Victims of International Armed Conflicts”; and the norms of customary international law affirmed by Article 38 of the Statute of the International

Court of Justice, including Rules 96, 113, 115 and 116, under which, inter alia, where persons have been detained, imprisoned or otherwise deprived of their liberty for more than two weeks as a result of hostilities or occupation, or have died while in custody, information concerning such persons must be registered (surname, first name, place and date of birth, nationality, last place of residence, distinguishing characteristics, father's name and mother's maiden name, the date, place and nature of the measures taken against the person, an address to which correspondence may be sent, and the address of the person to be notified); in the event of the death of such persons as a result of hostilities or occupation, maximum assistance must be provided in searching for them and recording information concerning them and, where necessary, such search and registration must be carried out independently; information concerning persons declared missing and requests for such information must be transmitted either directly or through the Protecting Power, the Central Tracing Agency of the International Committee of the Red Cross, or the national Red Cross (Red Crescent, Red Lion and Sun) Societies, in accordance with the specified requirements and numerous other norms of international law.

Armenia refused to provide information concerning the fate and whereabouts of these persons and, by failing to hand over the bodies of those killed in order to avoid future responsibility in accordance with the norms of international law and to conceal traces of the crimes committed, large pits were dug using machinery in the occupied territories, into which the bodies of the deceased, still clothed, were thrown in a degrading manner and en masse, unacceptable from a religious and moral standpoint to either Armenian or Azerbaijani society, after which they were covered with earth.

By refusing to provide information concerning the whereabouts and fate of these persons, they subjected them to enforced disappearance, and to this day these persons are considered missing. On September 27, 2020, large-scale aggressive attacks began, which were stopped by the Armed Forces of the Republic of Azerbaijan as a result of retaliatory measures taken.

On the basis of the Statement of the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan, the Prime Minister of the Republic of Armenia and the President of the Russian Federation of November 10, 2020 on a complete ceasefire and cessation of all hostilities, as well as as a result of the anti-terrorist operations carried out on September 20, 2023, the sovereign territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan that had been under occupation for more than 30 years were liberated.

During the relevant measures carried out by law-enforcement authorities after the liberation of the territories, servicemen of the Azerbaijani Army and civilians of Azerbaijani origin who had been considered missing were discovered.

During the aggressive war unleashed against Azerbaijan in 1987–1994, members of the criminal group intentionally killed them by firing at them with assault rifles, machine guns, grenade launchers and other firearms, inflicting numerous gunshot and shrapnel wounds. They were buried in cemeteries and other burial sites in the territory of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

Thus, in the First Alley of Martyrs in the city of Baku, servicemen of the Ministry of Defense who had been intentionally killed by members of the criminal group were buried in 11 of the 23 graves of unknown martyrs:

on July 19, 1992, in the territory of the village of Hasanriz (Aterk), Aghdara District: Mayilov Karabala Agabala oglu, Javadov Elman Khurshud oglu, Aliyev Imammaddin Aliaga oglu, Abdurrahmanov Yasin Shakir oglu, Agayev Shahlar Huseynaga oglu, and Zeynalov Ulkar Fidayil oglu;

From January 1, 1988 to October 3, 2023, as a result of the aggressive war launched against the Republic of Azerbaijan and the occupation of its territories, members of the criminal group unlawfully captured and took hostage 1,698 persons.

In particular, beginning in 1992, with the occupation of the Karabakh region and adjacent territories of Azerbaijan, the following persons were captured: in 2022 — 2 prisoners of war. Among those captured were 660 men (including 101 male children and 120 elderly persons) and 376 women (including 68 girls and 82 elderly women), for a total of 1,036 hostages (civilians). Of these, 729 persons were subjected to torture (experiencing physical pain and psychological suffering), while 307 persons were subjected only to psychological suffering. In addition, 389 prisoners of war (male servicemen) were captured, of whom 356 persons were subjected to physical torture and psychological suffering, while 33 persons were subjected only to psychological suffering. In total, the criminal group captured 1,425 persons (including 1,085 persons subjected to physical pain and psychological suffering and 341 persons subjected only to psychological suffering). These persons were unlawfully captured and taken hostage during the occupation of the following regions: Khankendi, Khojaly, Shusha, Lachin, Khojavend, Kalbajar, Aghdam, Aghdara, Jabrayil, Qubadli, Fuzuli and Zangilan, as well as in the border areas of the Gazakh, Tovuz, Gadabay and Goygol districts and the Nakhchivan Autonomous Republic.

Subsequently, by orders and instructions of the Armenian military-political leadership, these prisoners of war and hostages were held in special high-security prisons in the occupied territories of various districts and cities of Azerbaijan, as well as in various regions of Armenia, including Yerevan (Irevan), Goris (Gorus), Masis (Zangibasar), Meghri (Mehri), Sisian (Karakilisa), Vardenis (Basarkechar), Noyemberyan (Barana), Berd (Tovuzkala), Vayk (Azizbekov), Leninakan (Gyumri), Ijevan (Karavansara), Krasnoselsk (Chambarak), Artashat (Gamarly), Echmiadzin (Uchkilisa), and other districts and cities. They were held in militarized camps; in the basements of administrative buildings of district militia (police) departments and military units; in hospitals and kindergartens; on farms; in prisons together with inmates who had committed serious crimes; in filthy basements of houses belonging to individual field commanders and other authorized persons; as well as in various private locations, in open structures, in fields, in snowy and freezing weather, without clothing and under intolerable conditions. Without regard to their age, sex, state of health or injuries, their children were tortured in front of their parents, and parents in front of their children, using various forms of particularly cruel torture.

At the places where they were held, they were regularly subjected to brutal physical torture using rifle butts, rubber and iron batons, metal and wooden objects, as well as various hard and heavy objects. They were beaten until completely exhausted, electric current was applied to their bodies, their resistance was broken by restraining their arms, and they were subjected to violence by forcing them to sit on glass bottles (bottles with narrow necks intended for pouring liquids) and inserting them into the anal area; healthy teeth and gold dental prostheses were forcibly pulled from their mouths, and fingernails and toenails were pulled out with pliers. Their fingers were broken by trapping them in doors; wounds were inflicted on various parts of their bodies with piercing and cutting objects, after which sulfuric acid was poured into the wounds, salt was sprinkled into them, or molten lead was poured into them. Burning cigarettes were extinguished on their bodies, and cross-shaped brands were made with red-hot knives, constituting both torture and humiliation. They were forced to swallow shards of glass; scabs were torn from their wounds; nails were driven into their heads; their bodies were cauterized with red-hot objects; and young children were thrown headfirst from a height onto a concrete floor. As a result of the injuries inflicted, many of those subjected to such abuse became victims of mental illness.

In addition, using physical violence and threats of such violence, and taking advantage of the victims' helpless condition, they raped young and underage girls and women, engaging in sexual intercourse with them in both natural and unnatural ways, and forced them to perform sexual acts. They engaged in forcible unnatural sexual relations with men, while simultaneously committing acts of sexual violence against both women and men in order to satisfy their perverted sexual desires. Men were forced to engage in unnatural sexual relations with one another; women were raped and forcibly impregnated. For transplantation purposes, organs were removed (for example, the humerus together with muscle tissue); unlawful medical and other experiments were knowingly and deliberately conducted on them with the intention of rendering them disabled in the future. They were forced to undergo tests of various medicinal substances on their bodies; substances of unknown composition, including diesel fuel and gasoline, were injected into their veins. They were exposed to various forms of radiation and subjected to medical and biological research. They subjected people to psychological and physical violence by placing them among rabid dogs, stray dogs and specially trained dogs, which bit and tore their bodies. These persons were humiliated by being spat in the face and subjected to constant insults and threats of murder. They were forced to imitate the sounds and movements of various animals, to eat from the same bowl as animals, and to commit physical, immoral, degrading and insulting acts against one another. In this way, they subjected them to psychological violence, severely degrading their personhood and dignity.

These persons were kept under severe torture for long periods, left hungry and thirsty. They were given dried-out bread unfit for consumption, and

...a minimal amount of water, which was served in dirty metal containers that had not been washed for months. They were offered food and required to eat it within one minute, while those who failed to do so were punished with physical violence. They were forced to work in unsanitary conditions and to perform heavy physical labor, especially in places dangerous to life and health. For example, at the copper-gold mines in Vejnali (Zangilan District), Soyudlu-Zod (Kalbajar District), Gizilbulag (Aghdara District), stone quarries in the Fuzuli and Khojavend districts, as well as limestone mines in the Aghdam District. They dismantled looted houses, buildings and structures, committed acts of vandalism against historical and cultural monuments in the occupied territories, constructed and repaired military units, farms, residential and non-residential buildings, and also worked as domestic servants in private homes and on individual farms. They were subjected to forced labor and cruel exploitation, and conditions were deliberately created for infecting them with infections.

Prisoners of war were humiliated by turning them into objects of anti-Azerbaijani ideological propaganda and national hostility. They were shown in Armenian populated areas, especially in schools, with the words: “Look, this is a Turk, your enemy,” in order to instill hatred toward the Azerbaijani people. Prisoners of war were demonstratively beaten in public squares in front of representatives of the civilian population, which contributed to the propagation of an extreme degree of hatred and hostility toward Azerbaijanis in Armenian society. They were subjected to unlawful interrogations involving torture in order to obtain information about the defense, security, economy, politics and other spheres of activity of the Azerbaijani state.

In addition, in order to conceal from international delegations and the world community traces of crimes committed against Azerbaijanis who were at that time in the combat zone, on April 1, 1993, during a large-scale offensive by the Armed Forces of Armenia against the Kalbajar District of Azerbaijan, an order was transmitted from the headquarters radio station “GSM-7” in the Vardenis District of Armenia to the main radio station “Uragan,” located in the combat zone in Kalbajar, to immediately kill and bury captured citizens of Azerbaijan, including elderly persons, women and children.

At the graves of Armenian servicemen and members of illegal armed formations killed in the course of hostilities, as well as during events held in honor of the “memory of the Armenian genocide,” prisoners and hostages from among citizens of Azerbaijan were beheaded using cutting and piercing instruments. Various parts of their bodies were cut off, in particular women’s breasts, male genital organs, ears and noses, cross-shaped wounds were inflicted in the chest area, their eyes were cut out, and internal organs (the heart, liver, spleen and others) were removed. They were shot at point-blank range with firearms, strangled, burned alive, had their hands tied behind their backs with wire, were hung from trees and fires were lit beneath their feet, and were hanged by ropes from the ceilings of houses, from trees and in other places. They were crushed by tanks, armored personnel carriers (APCs), infantry fighting vehicles (IFVs), and other heavy armored vehicles; they were made to lie face down naked in the snow and were doused with cold water; they were kept in freezing weather and at low temperatures in icy rivers or bodies of water to which aggressive chemical substances had been added, as well as in large refrigeration chambers, causing frostbite and destruction of layers of skin. They were tied to the rear of moving vehicles and dragged along the ground; sick and wounded persons were deliberately deprived of medical assistance and care and were infected with tuberculosis, anthrax and other diseases. They were kept for long periods in cold and damp places without food or water, bringing them to a state of dystrophy caused by metabolic disorders in organs and tissues. Regular beatings, torture and humiliation drove many prisoners of war and hostages to suicide or to a state in which they committed suicide.

Thus, using more than one hundred different methods of torture known to the investigation, they subjected 13 prisoners and hostages to torture and inhuman treatment, including intentionally killing 1 of 34 civilians and 12 of 65 servicemen, while the remaining 86 persons, including 33 hostages and 53 prisoners of war, were released in exchange for financial resources provided by the Azerbaijani state through measures taken by international organizations, as well as thanks to the personal initiatives and contacts of close relatives of prisoners of war and hostages.

The leadership of the military-political authorities of the Republic of Armenia, including the armed forces and other armed formations, while also providing them with direct material, technical and personnel support, centralized command, issuing oral and written orders, directions and instructions, under strict control, directed the criminal organization unlawfully operating in the territory of the Republic of Azerbaijan in violation of the norms of domestic and international law.

The following leaders were members of this criminal organization, which included armed formations equipped with various types of weapons, ammunition, military equipment and other armaments: Harutyunyan Arayik Vladimirovich (born December 14, 1973), presenting himself as the “President” of the so-called fake entity “Artsakh”; Babayan David Klimovich (born 5...

...April 1973), presenting himself as an “adviser”; Davit Rubenovich Ishkhanyan (born December 27, 1958), who since 1989 has been a member of the “Dashnaktsutyun” party, as well as the head of the “Dashnaktsutyun” faction in the so-called “National Assembly of Artsakh,” and presenting himself as a “member of parliament”; Davit Azatovich Manukyan (born October 15, 1971), presenting himself as “Deputy Commander of the Defense Army for Combat Training”; Arkadi Arshavirovich Ghukasyan (born June 21, 1957), presenting himself as the second “President” of this criminal organization during the period from September 8, 1997 to September 7, 2007; Bako Sahakovich Sahakyan (born August 30, 1960), presenting himself as the third “President” during the period from July 19, 2007 to May 21, 2020; Lyova Genrikhovich Mnatsakanyan (born September 14, 1965), presenting himself as “Minister of Defense” during the period from June 15, 2015 to December 14, 2018, and other leaders, including through the implementation of collegial decisions, including directly criminal orders and instructions adopted and discussed by them, in connection with the ceasefire regime and the norms of international law on the notional line of contact between the troops of the Republic of Azerbaijan and Armenia, agreed by the protocol signed on May 8, 1994, including the UN Convention on combating the recruitment, use, financing and training of mercenaries of December 4, 1970, the Warsaw Convention on the Suppression of Terrorism of 2005, as well as accession thereto in 2015 in violation of the requirements of the Additional Protocol.

The investigation established that the participants, whose identities are unknown to the investigation, and each of them, as members of the criminal organization, in accordance with the common purpose and intent, carried out the criminal plan, namely, to continue the national hatred and hostility toward Azerbaijanis formed by them in Armenian society, to destroy Azerbaijani territories occupied by them during the aggressive war unleashed by them against Azerbaijan, to ensure that the sovereign territories of the Republic remained under occupation, to keep the Azerbaijani population in a constant state of fear and panic, preventing by any means their return to their lawful places of residence, and to compel the Republic of Azerbaijan to decide to renounce its sovereign territories in favor of Armenia. For this purpose, they used methods of warfare capable of causing significant destruction during the armed conflict, continuously subjecting the peaceful Azerbaijani civilian population lawfully residing in the sovereign territories of Azerbaijan to fire from weapons of various calibers, causing explosions and fires at their places of residence, along the line of contact with the occupied territories, as well as at sufficiently distant locations,

These illegal revenues were used to finance the aggressive war planned against the Republic of Azerbaijan, as well as terrorist and other criminal activities, including payment for the services of members of illegal armed formations and mercenaries, their training, the purchase of various types of weapons, ammunition, uniforms, food and other necessary resources.

The funds were also used to support the activities of the Armed Forces of Armenia, to purchase and equip armed formations with small arms, explosives and equipment, to participate in hostilities within the framework of the aggressive war against Azerbaijan, to increase the combat capability of units forming part of the criminal community, to illegally resettle civilians and servicemen from Lebanon, Syria and other countries, as well as from the territory of Armenia, in the occupied territories of Azerbaijan, to finance terrorism, and to satisfy personal interests.

The military-political leadership of the Republic of Armenia, including the armed forces and other armed formations, with their direct material and technical support, centralized command, strict control, as well as through centralized oral and written orders, directions and instructions, in violation of domestic and international law, organized the activities of the criminal organization and its structural subdivisions in the territory of the

...of the Republic of Azerbaijan. This organization, equipped with various types of weapons, ammunition, military equipment and other armaments, operated under the direct leadership of the aforementioned leaders and persons whose identities have not been precisely established.

As part of the implementation of the common criminal plan, members of this criminal organization, acting with the aim of perpetuating the national hatred and hostility toward Azerbaijanis that had been formed in Armenian society, and in the course of the aggressive war against the Republic of Azerbaijan, intentionally caused particularly large-scale and lasting damage to facilities essential to the livelihood of the population in the occupied territories of Azerbaijan. These included: the forest fund; vegetation not forming part of the forest fund; natural monuments in the form of rare plants; valuable forest areas; agricultural lands; bodies of water and reservoirs; mineral-resource deposits; and other elements of the environment.

These actions grossly violated the norms of domestic and international law, including Principle 5 of the UN World Charter for Nature, according to which: “Nature shall be secured against degradation caused by warfare or other hostile activities”; Article 1 of the UN Convention of December 10, 1976 “on the Prohibition of Military or Any Other Hostile Use of Environmental Modification Techniques,” which states that the use of methods and means causing significant, long-term or severe damage to the environment is prohibited with respect to any of the contracting parties.

These criminal acts caused significant damage to the natural resources, environment and infrastructure of the Republic of Azerbaijan. States Parties, as well as other subjects of international law, are obliged to refrain from providing assistance or support for the commission of such acts, as provided for in the UN Convention of August 12, 1949 “on the Protection of Victims of War” and Protocol I, adopted on June 8, 1977, Article 35 of which states:

“In any armed conflict, the parties do not have an unlimited right to choose methods or means of warfare. The use of weapons, ammunition, means or methods of warfare that cause excessive injury or unnecessary suffering is prohibited. The use of methods or means of warfare that cause or may cause significant, long-term and severe damage to the environment is prohibited.”

Article 55 of the Protocol also states:

“During warfare, the environment shall be protected against significant, long-term and severe damage. Such protection includes a prohibition on the use of methods or means of warfare that cause such damage to the environment and thereby harm the life or health of the population.”

In violation of these requirements of international law, from the beginning of the 1990s until September 20, 2023, in the course of the aggressive war against the Republic of Azerbaijan, the Armenian side caused significant damage, including the destruction of the environment, violations of the rights of the civilian population and the destruction of infrastructure essential to sustaining life, thereby causing Azerbaijan losses on an especially large scale.

Thus, during the period from the beginning of the 1990s, when the territories were under occupation, until September 20, 2023, trees of various species and diameters, shrubs and other perennial green vegetation forming part of the forest fund were unlawfully cut down or deliberately destroyed by arson in the territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

In addition, the aforementioned leaders and other members of the criminal organization, acting with the same criminal purpose and intent, during the specified period, in the occupied territory of the Zangilan District held by them, intentionally destroyed 287.5 hectares of a protected forest zone, which formed part of a 10,000-hectare forest tract having the status of a natural monument. In this area, 351,325 perennial, deep-rooted Araz oak trees, 10–14 cm in diameter, were unlawfully cut down and destroyed. These actions caused damage to the ecology and nature of the Republic of Azerbaijan in the amount of 843,180,000 manats, in respect of protected natural territories having the status of particularly valuable forests.

In addition, members of the criminal organization, acting in accordance with the common criminal purpose and intent, during the specified period, in the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan held by them, intentionally destroyed forest tracts located in specially protected nature reserves and sanctuaries. These actions included the unlawful cutting of perennial trees and shrubs of various species and diameters, as well as their intentional destruction by arson.

In the Basitchay State Nature Reserve, located in the Zangilan District, 42.8 hectares of forest out of a total area of 107 hectares were intentionally destroyed. The damage amounted to 106,724,811 manats.

In the Arazboyu State Nature Sanctuary, also located in the Zangilan District, out of a total area of 2,200 hectares, 1,565 hectares of forest were destroyed. The damage amounted to 24,565,080 manats.

In the Qubadli State Nature Sanctuary, located in the Qubadli District, 2,137 hectares out of a total area of 20,000 hectares were destroyed. The damage amounted to 9,271,726 manats.

In the Lachin State Nature Sanctuary, located in the Lachin District, 3,041 hectares out of a total area of 20,000 hectares were destroyed. The damage amounted to 20,004,734 manats.

In the Dashalti State Nature Sanctuary, located in the Shusha District, 50 hectares of forest out of a total area of 450 hectares were destroyed. The damage amounted to 128,266 manats.

Overall, in the territories of five specially protected nature reserves and sanctuaries, 6,835 hectares of forest tracts were destroyed, causing damage to the ecology and nature of the Republic of Azerbaijan in the amount of 160,694,617 manats. Taking into account other losses caused earlier, the total damage amounted to 1,818,677,774 manats.

In addition, during the specified period, in the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan, the water supply to 56,200,000 hectares of irrigated agricultural land located in the Goranboy, Tartar, Barda, Aghdam, Aghjabadi, Beylagan and Bilasuvar districts, which had been supplied with water through the Tartarchay, Gargarchay and Khachinchay irrigation systems, was intentionally cut off.

As a result, for the drilling of 1,279 sub-artesian wells in the specified districts during the period from 2005 to 2020, 102,831,600 manats were allocated from the state budget of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

As a result of the intentional improper regulation of the water regime of the Sarsang Reservoir, namely the discharge of excessive volumes of water during the autumn-winter period, a threat of flooding was created for the territories of the Tartar and Barda districts. To protect these territories, during the period from 1993 to 2020, 6,090,000 manats were allocated from the state budget for special bank-protection works on the Tartar River.

Due to the need to provide irrigated water to agricultural lands and improve the reclamation condition of winter pastures for internally displaced persons in the Aghjabadi and Fuzuli districts, during the period from 2006 to 2020, 91,861,000 manats were allocated from the state budget. These funds were spent on the construction of reinforced-concrete and concrete canals, closed drainage systems, open collectors, metal pipelines, and other construction works.

As a result of the intentional creation of conditions making the use of water resources impossible and the improper management of reservoirs, damage in the amount of 200,782,600 manats (102,831,600 + 6,090,000 + 91,861,000) was caused.

In addition, during the specified period, in the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan that were being held, damage in the amount of 12,000,000 manats was caused as a result of the improper operation of the Sarsang Reservoir, namely, without compliance with any rules, including the absence of timely cleaning, reinforcement works and proper regulation of the volume of water.

Likewise, the improper operation of the Sugovushan Reservoir, without compliance with the rules, timely cleaning, reinforcement works and proper regulation of the volume of water, resulted in damage in the amount of 20,708,000 manats.

The Khachinchay Reservoir was operated in violation of the rules, without timely cleaning, reinforcement works and proper regulation of the volume of water, causing damage in the amount of 20,824,000 manats.

The improper operation of the Aghdamkend Reservoir, likewise without compliance with the established rules, timely cleaning and reinforcement works, resulted in damage in the amount of 1,156,000 manats.

The “Kendelan-1” Reservoir was operated in violation of the rules, without timely cleaning, reinforcement works and proper regulation of the water, causing damage in the amount of 2,066,000 manats.

Similarly, the “Kendelan-2” Reservoir was operated in violation of the rules and without the necessary works being carried out, causing damage in the amount of 3,442,000 manats.

The Lower Kendelan Reservoir was also operated without compliance with any rules, timely cleaning or reinforcement works, causing damage in the amount of 9,344,000 manats.

Thus, the improper operation of the seven reservoirs constructed in these territories prior to the occupation, including the absence of timely cleaning, reinforcement works and proper regulation of the volume of water, caused total damage in the amount of 69,540,000 manats.

The deliberate creation of conditions making the use of water resources impossible and the improper management of reservoirs as a whole caused damage to the ecology and nature of the Republic of Azerbaijan in the amount of 270,322,600 manats (of which 200,782,600 manats constituted damage resulting from other violations, and 69,540,000 manats resulted from the improper operation of reservoirs).

In addition, the aforementioned leaders and other members of the criminal organization, acting with the same criminal purpose and intent, from the beginning of the 1990s through 2023, during the aggressive war against Azerbaijan, deliberately caused damage to agricultural lands with a total area of 5,210 hectares located in the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan: Zangilan, Jabrayil, Qubadli, Fuzuli, Lachin, Kalbajar, Shusha, Khojaly, Khojavend, Aghdam, Tartar and the present-day Aghdara districts.

As a result of the large-scale military operations conducted in these territories, the lands were deliberately destroyed due to the detonation of heavy artillery shells and missiles and the placement of mines and explosive devices. This caused military erosion, deformation of landscapes, destruction of the soil structure, its degradation and deterioration of the vegetation cover.

The restoration of these lands requires the following measures:

Removal of fragments of military equipment and components of missiles and shells, and initial clearance — 177,140,000 manats (34,000 manats per hectare).

Application of biological plant-protection agents, taking into account their biological characteristics — 354,280,000 manats (68,000 manats per hectare).

Phytoremediation measures — 17,714,000 manats (3,400 manats per hectare).

Addition of synthetic geopolymers — 1,882,112,500 manats (361,250 manats per hectare).

Application of beneficial bacteria and fungal spores — 4,428,500,000 manats (850,000 manats per hectare).

Chemical washing measures — 3,653,512,500 manats (701,250 manats per hectare).

Removal of the adsorbent or adsorbate from the soil — 885,700,000 manats (170,000 manats per hectare).

Overall, bringing 5,210 hectares of agricultural land into a condition suitable for use requires 11,398,959,000 manats.

As a result of the aggressive war and occupation of the specified territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan, environmental and natural damage in the amount of 11,398,959,000 manats was caused.

Thus, during the period from the end of the 1980s to September 20, 2023, in the course of the aggressive war, the aforementioned leaders and other members of the criminal organization deliberately caused damage to the ecology and nature of the Republic of Azerbaijan in the occupied territories by carrying out the following actions: deliberate cutting and destruction of trees, shrubs and other green plantings; deliberate pollution of water sources, bodies of water and reservoirs; creation of conditions making the use of water resources impossible and their deliberate improper management; deliberate destruction of agricultural lands and their deliberate exposure to military erosion.

As a result of these actions, material damage in the total amount of 13,487,959,374 manats (thirteen billion four hundred eighty-seven million nine hundred fifty-nine thousand three hundred seventy-four manats) was caused to the ecology and nature of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

The military-political leadership of the Republic of Armenia, including the armed forces and other armed formations, as well as their direct material and technical support and the provision of personnel,

...centralized command, oral and written orders, directions and instructions, carried out its activities under strict control. On this basis, a criminal organization operated illegally in the territory of the Republic of Azerbaijan, in violation of domestic and international law. This organization, as well as its structural subdivision consisting of armed formations equipped with various types of weapons, ammunition, military equipment and other armaments, whose members were persons still unknown to the investigation, acted in accordance with the common criminal purpose and intent of each member of the organization, continuing to foster national hatred and hostility toward Azerbaijanis within Armenian society.

In the course of the aggressive war launched by Armenia, their actions were aimed at maintaining the sovereign territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan under occupation, creating a permanent atmosphere of fear and terror among the Azerbaijani population in order to prevent their lawful return to their former places of residence, and compelling the Republic of Azerbaijan to relinquish its sovereign territories in favor of Armenia.

To achieve these objectives, in the occupied territories and along the lines of contact, as well as in territories located at a distance from them where the peaceful Azerbaijani population lawfully resided, shelling with weapons of various calibers was continuously carried out, and explosions and fires were caused in populated areas. Methods of warfare capable of causing significant destruction during armed conflicts were used. Extensive, long-term and severe damage was intentionally caused to the environment; large-scale destruction not justified by military necessity was carried out; undefended territories, populated areas and demilitarized zones were attacked. Territories were indiscriminately mined with numerous mines and other explosive devices without any military necessity.

The Azerbaijani population was deprived of the possibility of moving freely within the territory of its own country, living in safety and enjoying its fundamental rights. As a result of actions motivated by national and ethnic hatred, Azerbaijanis were intentionally killed with particular cruelty, and acts of genocide, terrorism and banditry were committed. Azerbaijanis were persecuted solely on the basis of nationality in violation of international law, captured and taken hostage, subjected to enforced disappearance, torture and other criminal acts, in violation of the Charter of the United Nations, which entered into force on October 24, 1945; the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, adopted by the UN on December 10, 1948; the Fourth Geneva Convention of August 12, 1949 “relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War”; and Additional Protocol I to the Geneva Conventions of June 8, 1977 “relating to the Protection of Victims of International Armed Conflicts”; the European Convention of November 4, 1950 “for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms”; UN Resolution No. 3314 (XXIX) of December 14, 1974 “Definition of Aggression”; the UN International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights of December 16, 1966; the Final Act of the Conference on Security and Co-operation in Europe, adopted in 1975 (Helsinki Final Act); the European Convention of January 27, 1977 “on the Suppression of Terrorism”; the Ottawa Convention of December 3, 1997 “on the Prohibition of the Use, Stockpiling, Production and Transfer of Anti-Personnel Mines and on Their Destruction”; the Convention of October 10, 1980 “on Prohibitions or Restrictions on the Use of Certain Conventional Weapons Which May Be Deemed to Be Excessively Injurious or to Have Indiscriminate Effects”; the Protocol to that Convention “on Prohibitions or Restrictions on the Use of Mines, Booby-Traps and Other Devices”; the Warsaw Convention of May 16, 2005 “on the Prevention of Terrorism”; the Oslo Convention of December 3, 2008 “on Cluster Munitions”; as well as the Bishkek Protocol “on the Proclamation of a Ceasefire,” concluded between the Republic of Armenia and the Republic of Azerbaijan on May 8, 1994 and entering into force on May 12, 1994.

Furthermore, in violation of the principles of international law concerning the inviolability of state borders, the territorial integrity of states, and the “inadmissibility of the use of force” for the seizure of territory or infringement of the political independence of other states, grossly violating the requirements of the aforementioned legal instruments and other norms of international law, they carried out large-scale destruction not justified by military necessity, and, with the intention of deliberately destroying or damaging by explosion and arson state and private property on an especially large scale, destroying citizens’ property, farms and the infrastructure of populated areas, and with other similar criminal intentions, acted from territories located along the entire notional border with Armenia.

They also involved in their criminal activities persons residing in the Karabakh region of Azerbaijan and in other territories inhabited by an Armenian-speaking population, including members of terrorist organizations, as well as Armenian-speaking persons residing abroad and other persons, hiring them as mercenaries and providing them with weapons, ammunition and other material and technical resources.

Having formed armed groups, in the course of the aggressive war launched against Azerbaijan, using automatic firearms, artillery systems, multiple-launch rocket systems, ballistic missile systems, as well as other types of weapons of various calibers, the exact makes and types of which have not been established by the investigation, they set up ambushes, creating...

in 2024, at least 5 persons, all of whom were male civilians.

In total, 55,177 persons, including 3,710 civilians and 51,467 servicemen, 54,103 men and 1,074 women, including 457 children, sustained bodily injuries of varying degrees. However, because the victims managed to avoid the armed attack, received qualified medical assistance in a timely manner, owing to the intervention of international organizations with regard to prisoners and hostages, as well as due to the circumstances of the incidents and factors beyond their control, they were unable to intentionally kill these persons.

In addition, beginning in 1987, in the course of preparing, planning and conducting the aggressive war against Azerbaijan, with the aim of aggravating the consequences of the aggressive war for the Republic of Azerbaijan, undermining the economic situation in the country and achieving other criminal objectives, they conducted military operations to occupy the sovereign territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

Subsequently, in the occupied territories, using the engineering fortifications and firing positions they had created, as well as mining the territories, they caused significant damage. During the period from 1994 to 2023, the Republic of Azerbaijan allocated the following funds from the state budget: 2,540,657,321 manats to the families of those killed who had been granted the status of martyr and who had been intentionally killed in ...the course of the aggressive war, as well as to persons who became disabled as a result of bodily injuries of varying degrees sustained during the aggressive war. 2,903,826,722 manats were allocated for pension provision for the families of martyrs and disabled war veterans; 1,027,040,000 manats for providing them with housing; 83,970,000 manats for providing them with vehicles; 44,208,057 manats for providing persons with disabilities with prosthetic and orthopedic products, wheelchairs, technical and other rehabilitation aids; 8,695,675 manats for social and psychological support and rehabilitation services; and 15,281,500 manats as compensation for damage caused to the property (household appliances and household items) of civilians residing in frontline areas during the 44-day Patriotic War in 2020.

In total, 6,623,679,275 manats were allocated and spent from the state budget to eliminate the consequences of the aggressive war in the aforementioned areas, thereby causing particularly large-scale material damage to the Republic of Azerbaijan.

In implementing the criminal plan encompassed by the common criminal intent of the criminal organization, beginning in 1987, during the preparation and planning of the aggressive war against Azerbaijan and in the course of that war, they destroyed, damaged, rendered unusable and seized weapons, military equipment, military vehicles and other material and technical assets of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Azerbaijan, thereby weakening the military strength and defense capability of the Republic of Azerbaijan, inflicting maximum material losses on the Republic of Azerbaijan and pursuing other criminal objectives.

Until September 20, 2023, on various dates, using, inter alia, the material and technical base of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Armenia, as well as various large- and small-caliber weapons, ammunition, artillery systems and missiles unlawfully obtained from the 366th Regiment, which was stationed in the Karabakh region of Azerbaijan and belonged first to the former USSR and subsequently to the Russian Federation, they carried out armed attacks by firing the aforementioned weapons.

As a result of these attacks, missiles, artillery weapons, ammunition, military optical devices and other military technical property belonging to the Ministry of Defense of the Republic of Azerbaijan in the Lachin, Kalbajar, Qubadli, Aghdam, Jabrayil, Fuzuli, Zangilan and Tartar districts, as well as in the Gazakh, Tovuz and Gadabay districts and other districts bordering Armenia, were destroyed, seized or rendered unusable, causing damage in the amount of 87,307,831.65 manats.

In addition, by destroying and seizing tanks and other armored vehicles, as well as their components, which were on the balance sheet of

As a foreign citizen, he unlawfully crossed the guarded state border of the Republic of Azerbaijan as part of an organized group forming part of the criminal association, bypassing official border crossing points.

In the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan, within the illegally created organization called “Artsakh,” from November 4, 2022 to February 23, 2023, he held the post of “State Minister”, and also, until the end of September 2023, actively participated in the adoption of decisions connected with the preparation and commission of crimes against the Republic of Azerbaijan and its natural and legal persons.

In addition, Ruben Vardanyan, contrary to the provisions of the Warsaw Convention “on the Suppression of Terrorism” of May 16, 2005 and numerous other norms of international law, in accordance with the common criminal purpose and intent of the criminal formation (organization), on May 18, 2023, prepared a written plan concerning the conduct of training for persons aged 20 to 55 in the territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan where the Russian peacekeeping contingent was temporarily deployed, with the organization and under the leadership of the group “Front for the Security and Development of Artsakh,” which formed part of the criminal formation (organization) and had in fact been established by him personally, including the creation of military camps for these purposes and the simultaneous conduct of military training for 30 persons under the supervision of 2 instructors in each camp.

In accordance with the said plan, at various times during May–August 2023, he intentionally collected from the organizations “Ruben Vardanyan Foundation,” “Dilijan Community Center,” “Aznavor Foundation,” the “iDEA” Charitable Foundation, other organizations, foundations and individuals, monetary funds in various amounts for the organization “We Are Our Mountains,” established by him, including, in May 2023, monetary funds in the amount of USD 212,000 (two hundred twelve thousand) (360,400 manats), which were collected in full for financing the organization of training directly related to terrorism. Using the said funds through the organization called “We Are Our Mountains,” and disguising this under information published on Internet resources concerning an alleged “airsoft” sports competition under the name “David Bek military sport” (“Military Sports Games...

...“David Bek”) and “survival skills in extreme conditions,” under the leadership of the “Front for the Security and Development of Artsakh,” during May-August 2023, at a special camp on the bank of the Badara River, flowing near the village of Badara, Khojaly District (coordinates: x39.906947, y46.655509), he personally organized and conducted, for groups bearing names corresponding to those of the terrorist organizations “ASALA” (Armenian Secret Army for the Liberation of Armenia) and “Nemesis” (“Revenge”), consisting mainly of young people, military training in methods of committing terrorist acts, training in the use of firearms, explosives and explosive devices, other generally dangerous methods and technical means, and subsequently informed other members of the criminal formation (organization) about the said training, including Hayk Armenovich Hovakimyan, with whom he maintained close ties.

In addition, Ruben Vardanyan, in accordance with the common criminal purpose and intent of the criminal formation (organization), during the period from June 2, 2023 to September 20, 2023, using mobile telephone number [REDACTED], conducted negotiations and correspondence with Vladimir Sergeevich Poghosyan (Pogosyan), a citizen of the Republic of Armenia who had served in the National Security Service of the Republic of Armenia and held the position of assistant to the chief adviser to the President of the Republic of Armenia on national security matters, who was the founder and chairman of the movement “Committee 27” and carried out activities under the guise of a security expert, contacting him at mobile telephone number [REDACTED] through the Signal mobile application, as well as through other mobile applications and social networks.

They entered into an agreement concerning the creation of a new special-purpose armed formation not provided for by the legislation of the Republic of Azerbaijan, which was to be financed by Ruben Vardanyan and deployed in the territories where the Russian peacekeeping contingent was temporarily stationed, as well as concerning supplying the said special-purpose armed formation with weapons, ammunition, explosives, military equipment and military gear, for the purpose of keeping the sovereign territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan under occupation, keeping the Azerbaijani population in a state of fear and panic and thereby preventing the return of internally displaced persons to the territories under occupation. They also agreed that Ruben Vardanyan was to acquire and deliver to the illegal special-purpose armed formation an electronic warfare (EW) system capable of destroying aircraft with a 12-channel control system operating at frequencies from 300 MHz to 8 GHz at a distance of 50 kilometers within the Republic of Azerbaijan, and, for these purposes, Ruben Vardanyan intentionally collected and transferred, partially, directly and indirectly, monetary funds, thereby financing terrorism.

In addition, Ruben Vardanyan, in accordance with the common criminal purpose and intent of the criminal formation (organization), with the support and under the control of the military-political leadership of Armenia, for the purpose of supplying military equipment to military formations forming part of the said criminal formation (organization), which carried out illegal activities in the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan contrary to international law, during September 2023 took steps toward purchasing a “Malloy” unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV) manufactured in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, with a payload capacity of 180 kg and an operating range of 70 km.

On September 14, 2023, in the Telegram group entitled “ATP ‘We Are Our Mountains’,” he shared video files depicting the unmanned aerial vehicle, thereby informing the members of the group about it, and intentionally collected monetary funds and other property from citizens of various foreign states, knowingly aware that they would be used, partially, directly and indirectly, in the preparation, organization and commission by the criminal formation (organization) of acts provided for by Articles 214, 270-1, 278 and 279 of the Criminal Code, thereby financing terrorism.

After that, Ibayev Kyamiz Mubariz oglu had his hands tied, thereby restricting his movement, and in that same condition was transferred to the territory of the Republic of Armenia, where members of the criminal organization, in a dark prison whose location was not established by the investigation, brutally beat him using hard blunt objects and physical violence, as a result of which he lost consciousness, subjected him to cruel and inhuman treatment involving beatings, insults with obscene words, extinguishing cigarettes on various parts of his body, thereby causing burns, and, contrary to norms of international law, unlawfully deprived him of liberty from the moment he was taken hostage until 3 August 2022; during 13 days of unlawful detention in custody, Kyamiz Ibayev sustained numerous small superficial wounds to the posterior surface of the neck, anterior surface of the left half of the chest, left shoulder and both forearms, the area of the right wrist joint and posterior surface of the right hand, classified as causing minor harm to health and resulting in a short-term impairment of health, characteristic of local exposure to high temperature; he was beaten, thereby subjected to physical violence, held without food, subjected to insults, thereby subjected to torture, and on 3 August 2022 was released and returned to the Republic of Azerbaijan.

In addition, on 19 September 2023, at approximately 18:00–19:00, members of the criminal formation, having opened artillery fire on the village of Mollalar, Aghdam District, liberated from occupation, committed a terrorist attack. At that time, peaceful resident of the village of Bash Garvand, Aghdam District, Hasanov Mehman Fikret oglu, born on 25 February 1992, who had been seconded on 10 September 2023 by Korpu-Bina-Tikinti LLC as an excavator driver to carry out excavation and construction works in that territory for the purpose of road construction in the territory of the village of Mollalar, Aghdam District, was standing near a Liugong CLG 930E excavator, bearing state registration plate AZ 10-FC-054, assigned to him and carried on the balance sheet of the said LLC, and was planning the work when he heard the sounds of explosions and, in order to take cover, ran toward trees located nearby. At that moment, he was injured by the explosion of another artillery shell that landed approximately 80 meters away, sustaining a shrapnel wound to the right knee, classified as causing minor harm to health as a result of fragments, but he was not intentionally killed because he was relatively far from the blast wave.

Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Civil Aviation” of 23 September 1971, i.e. destruction of, damage to or interference with the safety and operation of an aircraft, transmission of false information that endangers the safety of an aircraft in flight, etc., as well as the Chicago Convention “on International Civil Aviation” of 1944, the Tokyo Convention “on Offences and Certain Other Acts” of 1963, and numerous other norms of international law, by directly interfering with the exclusive sovereignty of the Republic of Azerbaijan over its airspace during international and domestic flights, for the purpose of creating a threat to the safety of air traffic and the proper and safe operation of aircraft during flight, i.e. creating conditions for the loss of real-time and location data when controlling aircraft and for accidents in poor-visibility conditions as a result of loss of location data, acquired the Pole-21 radio-jamming system, developed in 2016 at the Scientific and Technical Center for Electronic Warfare of the Russian Federation, whose GPS receiver (global navigation system) radio-jamming zone measures 150 × 150 km, with a radio-suppression sector of 125° in azimuth and 25° in elevation, a jammer of GPS NAVSTAR receivers (Navigation Satellite Timing and Ranging — Global Positioning System); GLONASS (Global Navigation Satellite System), with a suppression range for QNPS receivers (global navigation satellite systems) of no less than 25 kilometers, as well as an output power of 300–1000 W, installed both on a vehicle chassis and on stationary mobile communications equipment and other supports and high-rise buildings, used to divert aircraft and other airborne equipment from their targets by creating a barrier to global navigation satellite systems, to protect important facilities from aerial attack systems (UAVs, etc.), as well as at precise frequencies in space using global satellite navigation systems such as GPS, GLONASS and BeiDou (satellite positioning system); the Repellent-1 electronic warfare system, manufactured in the Russian Federation, with an operating range of 200–6000 MHz for jamming in detection mode, a radio-technical reconnaissance range for control signals of up to 10 kilometers, a radio-technical reconnaissance range for telemetry data transmission channels from a small UAV of up to 30 kilometers, a radio-electronic jamming range from a small-sized UAV to control-signal receiving channels of up to 30 kilometers, a radio-electronic suppression range against telemetry and data-reception channels of up to 10 kilometers, and a radio-electronic suppression range against satellite navigation systems of small-sized UAVs of up to 30 kilometers, used for conducting radio-technical reconnaissance, detecting small UAVs and their ground control stations, as well as suppressing navigation and telemetry signals by jamming their control channels; as well as a Mortira-type radio-jamming station, manufactured by the Military-Industrial Committee of the Republic of Armenia, which creates interference on ultrashort waves, jams communications lines and operates at frequencies of 25–2600 MHz. By transporting them to various locations in the occupied territories of the Republic of Azerbaijan, they provided members of the criminal association with equipment intended to restrict and obstruct safe and regular air traffic in the airspace belonging to the Republic of Azerbaijan and, through persons whose identities were not established by the investigation, deployed and activated Repellent-1 and Pole-21M radio-jamming stations in the territories of the village of Hasanriz, Kalbajar District (now Aghdara)(40°12'5.826" N, 46°27'30.498" E); the village of Mehdibeyli, Khojaly District (39°53'32.000" N, 46°43'40.000" E); the village of Avdur, Aghdam District (39°49'56.023" N, 46°56'14.324" E); as well as a Mortira radio-jamming station in the territories of the settlement of Noragyugh, Khojaly District (39°57'20" N, 46°47'09" E), the city of Khankendi(39°49'31.738" N, 46°44'22.626" E), the village of Garakend, Khojavend District (39°50'48.198" N, 47°02'13.084" E), the village of Guneykhirman, Khojavend District (39°44'32.959" N, 47°00'37.064" E), the village of Kichik Garabey, Terter District (now Aghdara) (40°12'11.039" N, 46°44'46.390" E), the village of Ashaghi Oratag, Terter District (now Aghdara) (40°11'22.515" N, 46°47'49.577" E), and on Mount Bogurkhan, located on the border of Khojaly and Khojavend Districts, 1 km north of the village of Gyzyloba, Khojaly District (39°47'05.533" N, 46°50'44.599" E), and applied radio interference: on 31 May 2022 to a civilian aircraft belonging to the Republic of Turkey, model B-77-I, flight No. 0443-0734, operating the Istanbul–Almaty route at an altitude of 10,668 meters, using the airspace of the Republic of Azerbaijan from 11:56 over Gazakh District until 12:07 over Shaki District; on 31 May 2022 to an aircraft belonging to the Republic of Turkey, model A-21-H, flight No. 0434-0207, operating the Bishkek–Istanbul route at an altitude of 9,600 meters, using the airspace of the Republic of Azerbaijan from 12:05 over Shamkir District until 12:12 over Gazakh District; on 8 July 2022 to an aircraft belonging to the Republic of Finland, model A-359, flight No. 0405-0632, operating the Hong Kong–Helsinki route at an altitude of 10,000–12,000 meters, with
